U. S. OFFICIALS SAY FLIGHT IS NOW POSSIBLE

Been Made by Department Officers

ESTABLISH STATIONS

Army Men Say T-2 Is Suitable for Expedition Now Being Talked of

Washington, March 20.—An around-
the-world airplane flight is now under
consideration by the army air service,
it was learned officially today.

Studies of possible routes already
have been made and though still incomplete, these investigations have
progressed far enough to convince officials the proposed flight is entirely feasible. The army air service also
has at least one "ship" which veteran pilots believe is capable of making the flight.

The main routes for the flight already have been determined upon and
for certain laps of the prospective
trip alternative routes have been selected. A solution has been found, officials believe, for the problem of
the Pacific, hitherto regarded as
presenting insurmountable difficulties
in the present stage of air craft development.

No attempt would be made to fly
directly across the Pacific, officials
say, but the plane would cross to Siberia from the Aleutian Islands, off
the coast of Alaska.

Starting at Bolling Field, the proposed route passes through the national capital to Detroit, thence
across a portion of Canada to Alaska
and the Aleutian Islands. A comparatively short flight across the Bering Sea would bring the plane to Kam-
chatka and another of about the same
duration across the Sea of Okhotsk
would bring it to Vladivostok.

From the Siberian capital, the route
lies along the China coast to Singapore, across the Bay of Bengal and
the Dekhan of India to Bombay.

From Bombay the route would follow
the course already laid out by British fliers, across Mesopotamia, up the Mediterranean to Marseilles, Paris
and London.

From England to the United States
there are two feasible routes, the
southern by way of the Azores, and
the northern, by the way of Iceland,
Greenland and Canada.

Since British airmen have made
flights to Mesopotamia, India and
even to Australia and since fliers
have crossed the Atlantic the only
part of the route which remains un-
tested is that across the Bering
Sea and down the coast of China.

Owing to the shortness of days in the northern regions in winter, officials have selected the months of July and August as the best time
for making this part of the flight.

Before the world flight can be attempted, it will be necessary, of
course, to provide oil, gas and repair
stations at fixed intervals along the
proposed route and arrangements
will have to be made with the governments of the various territories to be traversed, for permission to land
where necessary.

Army officers believe the T-2, the
remodeled thick wing monoplane in
which Lieutenants Kelly and Mac-
Ready of the air service recently set
new world records, for distance, is suitable for the flight around the world.

THIRTY HOMES IN PATH OF BLAZE

Key West, Fla., March 20.—More than thirty homes were destroyed
by fire here early today when a stubborn blaze swept over several blocks doing approximately $90,000 damage. No loss of life was reported.
The fire started in a cigar factory and gained great headway before
it was noticed, according to police.

TORONTO SCHOONER IN BERMUDA RACE

Commodore Jarvis, of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, has entered his schooner yacht Haswell in the New York to Bermuda race, to be sailed
in June. At least 20 yachts are expected to compete.

BOOZE SWINDLE, THEN SLEEPING POTION AND $50,000 IS MISSING

Cincinnati, O., March 20.—Using
the prospective sale of 200 cases of bonded whiskey as bait, a gang of Cincinnati confidence men took a wealthy Pennsylvanian through a
swindle that left him $50,000 poorer
with not even worthless stock certificates for souvenirs, police learned
last night.

A sample of the liquor, laden with
a sleeping potion, figured in the deal,
in which the victim was said to have
been William B. Jones of West Moreland County, Pa. Jones awoke yesterday after an 18-hour nap superin-
duced by the narcotic.

According to police and private
detectives at work on the case, the
liquor offer led to talk of stock manipulations promising huge profits. A bottle of a familiar brand of Kentucky liquor, brought out to celebrate the almost completed bargain,
was the last thing Jones recalled.
But when he awoke, he told police,
he had been robbed of twenty $1,000
bills and three $10,000 bills.

ORDER SUSPENSION OF POLICE CHIEF

Salem, O., March 20.—Mayor John
W. Post announced that Governor
Donahay had told him to discharge
Police Chief T. W. Thompson within 30 days, under penalty of being himself removed as mayor. Complaints
as to law enforcement conditions were
made to the governor some time ago
by citizens of Salem. Mayor Post
said that he would suspend the chief,
that the case would go to the civil service commission and that the governor then would have to prove charges against the police chief.

Police Judge Sustains Motion of Defense to Let
Cortner Off

Springfield, O., March 20.—The
bottom fell out of the state's case against W. M. Cortner, kleagle of the Springfield Ku Klux Klan, charged with "riotous conspiracy" when Police Judge Golden C. Davis today sustained the motion of the defense to dismiss Cortner.

Dismissal of the case carries with
it the return of all the property seized
in the raid on klan headquarters
by Springfield police, Judge Davis
ruled.

The judge announced, however,
that his dismissal would not prevent
the state from taking the case before a special grand jury and introducing the same, and additional
evidence.

Police Prosecutor Justin Altschul
and Attorney J. B. Malone, special
counsel for the state, refused to make
any statement as to their plans for further prosecution of the case.

Clark County Prosecuting Attorney
O. L. McKinney said there will be no action taken by his office to carry
the case before a grand jury for investigation.

"No special grand jury will be called
to investigate the Cortner case,"
said Clark County Common Pleas
Judge Frank W. Geiger.

"The regular grand jury will convene in about ten days and I have received no information that the case
will be brought up before it."

Judge Davis, in handing down his
decision, said:

"The finding of this court does not
prevent the state, or parties interested in the prosecution, from taking
the case before the grand jury for investigation. This court desires it to
be understood that it will not con-
strue such a course as personal discourtesy or judicial disrespect. It feels that such action would be justified because of the general and widespread interest the case has aroused."

LEADERS OF ESCAPE HELD IN SOLITARY

Cincinnati, O., March 20.—Glen
Beams, alias Jack Ross, who Sunday
night led an attempted jail delivery
in which forty inmates of the Hamilton county jail participated, and Jack O'Brien, his lieutenant in the effort
are being held in solitary confinement.

Court officials plan to seek extension of the sentences of both because of the attempted escape. No charge against them make the form of indictments because of the beating of
a trusty.

BANK ORDERED CLOSED

Chicago, March 20.—The Sixteenth
Street Bank, with deposits of $5080-
000, was ordered closed today by the state bank examiner's office after
all its officers resigned.

BRIBE RUMORS TO BE PROBED IN COMMITTEE

Ohio Senate to Pass On Resolution in Connection
With Bill

TWO ARE OFFERED

Action Revolves Around Proposed Measure Regarding Hotels

Columbus, O., March 20.—The Senate rules committee is scheduled to
meet today and take action on two
resolutions providing for an investigation of bribe rumors in connection
with the bill, introduced by Senator
Marshall, Cleveland, reducing the
liability of hotel owners and proprietors in cases of losses by the
sustained by hotel guests.

The resolutions were offered in the Senate late yesterday. One, by Senator Chapplear, Pickaway County, names Senator Burch, Summit
County; Gardner, Hamilton, Republicans, and Garver, Holmes, Democrat, as members of a committee to probe the affair. The other resolution, offered by Senator Bensch, Cleveland, authorizes Lieutenant
Governor Bloom as presiding officer
of the Senate to name a special committee of five senators to conduct
the investigation.

Belief that the Republican majority favors the Chapplear resolution led to the prediction that the rules committee will recommend adoption of
that resolution.

In advance of the introduction of resolutions, Senators Marshall and Rowe, also of Cleveland, presented a joint petition urging the Senate to provide for an investigation. Both
resolutions referred to the rules
committee. Power to summon witnesses and to compel their attendance is conferred upon the probe
committee by each resolution. The house codes committee has announced that it will hold another hearing
next Wednesday on the Rhee bill
which provides for abolition of the present state building code and for
the substitution of a state commission of seven members to draft
building standards.

After being reported out favorably,
the Price bill, transferring registrations of automobiles and issuance of
license tags to the State Tax Commission and county auditors, from
the secretary of state was committed to the Senate taxation committee. Automobile clubs throughout
the state are opposing the bill.

LABOR SITUATION IN ENGLAND WORSE

London, March 20.—The first general debate on socialistic principles
of government since Premier Andrew
Bonar Law took office is due in the House of Commons tonight when the
resolution of Philip Snowden, Labor-
ite, proposing nationalization of industries, is called up.

Many amendments have been offered since the resolution was introduced last week.

Sir Philip Lloyd-Graeme, famous
British financier, will lead the opposition to the measure. It is regarded as doubtful if the resolution reaches a
vote, although the labor members are insisting that the house put on record.

In the meantime the labor situation
in Western England is becoming worse.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 20.—
"It is a fraud. I believed in the House of David until just a while ago,
when Esther Hanaford, for 13 years
secretary for Benjamin told me that Benjamin carried on misconduct with all the girls of the colony."

John Hansel, his voice trembling
with anger, gave this reply today
when asked if he still believed in the House of David.

(Hansel was referring to "King" Benjamin Purnell, leader of the Israelites.)

Hansel, former member of the colony, is suing the Benton Harbor cult
for $80,000 damages.

Washington, March 20.—Whether
General Washington or General Jackson shall ride his fiery steed in Lafayette square, facing the white house,
is for congress alone to determine.
Quite a furore has been stirred up in
the last few days over a proposal to remove the Jackson equestrian statue
from Lafayette square and replace it
with the equestrian statue of Washington, now being dismantled in Washington circle for repairs. Admirers of "Old Hickory" are insisting that the memorial to the hero of the battle of
New Orleans shall not be disturbed.

Women Demand Passage of Narcotic Bill

Senator Shortridge of California,
is shown with Mrs. William A. Fitzgerald, of Los Angeles, President of
the Woman's Federation of Clubs
of California and head of the Anti-
Narcotic League who went to Washington to urge the Senator to support
the Anti-Narcotic bill in the next session of Congress.

NEXT CONGRESS TO FACE TRANSPORTATION ISSUE

More Efficient Handling of Railroads of Nation Nec-
Possible

Washington, March 20.—Efficient
handling of locomotives alone would
save forty large railroads of the United States a half billion dollars
annually in coal and capital invested,
Senator James Couzens, Republican
of Michigan declared today in discussing the American transportation
problem.

Predicting the 68th Congress would
be forced to meet the railroad situation face to face, Senator Couzens
warned that the railroad "doctors"
are preparing to give the nation an anesthetic in the form of
statistics, curved lines and tables,
preparatory to a painless operation,
in December.

There are two kinds of propagandists at large according to Senator Couzens—the first are those denig-
ing the railroads as now operated;
the second class "demagogues" ex-
aggerating the railroad difficulties.

"From my observation there is an absence of any discussion as to more
efficient and economical methods of transportation so as to reduce costs," Couzens said.

"The first thing that occurs to a
railroad manager when he wants to reduce costs is to cut wages—that
does not require any laborious brain
work. But why not concentrate on means of cutting costs without reducing wages."

"The inadequacy of transportation
facilities is chiefly responsible for high
operating costs and consequently excessive freight rates."

Couzens explained if forty large
railroads would increase efficiency to
reach the standards of locomotive
performance set by the ten best railroads, a saving of close to $500,000, 000 would be possible.

"Henry Ford has drawn the attention of railroads a number of times
to the great necessity of reducing
weight so as to reduce the enormous amount of dead tonnage hauled. He has pointed the way on a number of
occasions how to reduce costs with-
out reducing wages."

MAKE EFFORT TO PROTECT INVESTORS

Columbus, March 20.—Progress has been made in the effort to protect Ohio investors from questionable promotional schemes, according to Cyrus Locher, director of commerce, who
supervises the work of the blue sky
department. In a letter to Governor Donahay, Director Locher reports that
disposal of stock in 70 different corporations has been prevented by Norman E. Beck, as commissioner of securities, the stock amounting to $91-
69,800 during the period from Feb. 1
to March 15. In this six weeks' time
the commissioner revoked the sale of
stock in 59 companies which had previously been authorized to sell their securities, and denied certificates of
compliance to the remaining 11 companies of the 70 on their first application. The stock involved in the revocations amounted to $88,894,800 and in
the new applications to $2,575,000. The disposal of 4,074,743 shares of stock
of no par value, in addition to the
above, was also refused.

PENNSYLVANIA TOWN ROCKED BY BLAST AS POWDER MILL LETS GO

Village Thrown Into Consternation Tuesday Morning In Explosion Which Rocks Section—Dead
Were Workmen.

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 20.—The little village of Bilena, located a mile and a half from Moosic was thrown into consternation this morning at 9:15 o'clock when the building known as Pack House No. 1 of the Dupont Powder Company, blew up. Two men were killed instantly and one is in a dying condition. The dead are:
John Taylor, 28, of Startas, near Moosic.
James Graham, 50, of Moosic, married.
Mike Lawald, 60, is in a dying condition at his home in Bilena village.
When the explosion occurred, Graham was at his work in the build-

FOURTEEN ARE INJURED WHEN ELEVATOR DROPS

Employees of Large Printing Establishment in Pittsburgh
Are Victims of Accident Early Tuesday Morning
—Cause Unexplained.

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 20.—Eight
girls and six men were injured, some
seriously when an elevator in the building of Murdock, Kerr and Company, dropped shortly after 8 o'clock
this morning. They were taken to hospitals. They were employed in the big printing establishment.
Reports received at police head-

suffering severely from shock. A few were believed to have received internal injuries.

Just as the elevator was about to
stop at the second floor, it suddenly dropped to the basement. Police
from headquarters nearby, hurriedly
began extricating the victims and
rushing them to the hospitals.

At the hospitals, it was said, first
examinations did not reveal any seriously injured.

GERMANY WILL GIVE VIEWS ON RUHR INVASION

British Ambassador Bringing Document Setting
Forth Viewpoint

London, March 20.—Lord D'Aber-
non, British ambassador to Germany,
who is returning from Berlin, is reported to be bringing a document setting forth the "viewpoint of the German government regarding Ruhr occupation."

The German embassy, however, denied any official knowledge upon the subject.

Herr St. Hamer, the German ambassador, conferred with Lord Cur-
zon, the British foreign secretary on Monday night, but neither would say
what was discussed. From other sources
it was learned that negotiations
are under way which may lead to a settlement of the Ruhr problem.

German industrialists are credited with being responsible for the negotiations.

British officials declared that Lord
D'Abernon's visit did not have unusual significance, but that he is coming for a brief vacation.
Governor Norman A. F. the Bank of England, conferred in Paris with the governor of the Bank of France upon
the payment of 65,000,000 pounds
sterling owing to this country by France. This is part of 75,000,000
pounds sterling borrowed by France
from England during the war. Only 15,000,000 pounds have been paid.
France has asked a ten year's exten-

PATIENT'S LEAP FATAL

Chicago, March 20.—John Pieklow
was killed when he leaped from a six-
story window at the county hospital.
Pieklow, suffering from tuberculosis,

FORMER U. S. CONGRESSMEN IN GARB OF GOBS LOCKED UP IN PANAMA FOR DISOBEDIENCE

Panama City, March 20.—(By Radio)—Andrew N. Peterson, of Brooklyn, and Albert B. Rossald of the Bronx, former United States
Congressmen from New York State, were released from jail here early today after being arrested for violating navy regulations by appearing
on the streets after 11 p. m. in naval uniforms.

To find out just what were the experiences of a sailor under
actual war conditions, they drew complete outfits from the ship's quartermaster and dressed as common seamen, agreeing to observe
all naval regulations during the time they were thus attired.

They are said to have had a pleasant evening enjoying the sights
of this ancient Central American city, forgetting that their passes provided for their return to their ship at 11 o'clock.

Shortly after that hour, they are said to have ventured forth
from a cabaret and immediately fell into the hands of the civil police.
Their protestations and passes were of no use. The Panama
police said they were going to obey orders to the letter—and two ex-
congressmen were locked up northward.

It is easily read, being inset into the main front of the range. The heat graduations, as to the degrees and different articles to bake, are plainly marked on the thermometer. It is absolutely reliable. Recipes can be followed without guesswork or chance of error. It registers oven heat to a fraction of a degree. No need to worry about food burning or undercooking. Women agree that this feature surpasses anything of its kind ever put on a gas range.

Styles BY LENORE

When you give an already lovely frock of pussywillow gray crepe de chine a brilliant blue monogram motif and match it with a batiked silk handkerchief stuck artfully into the slash-pocket in the girdle, you achieve an admirable effect of studied perfection.

The pleats form a tunic that almost but not quite meets in the back. In the lighter shades, such as gray, beige, and lavender green, this design makes a chic frock for luncheon or tea or for week ends in the country. In dark blue it is suitable for school or office wear.

Many of the new dresses this season derive their smartness from pleatings, which is not at all regrettable, as this affords one of the most desirable means of giving character to a frock without trimmings. One of the most attractive models observed in a Fifth Avenue shop resorts to pleats the entire length of the dress, the fulness being confined at the neck by a straight-across band attached with fagoting, and at the waistline with a ribbon in contrasting color, that lies gracefully at a side. Wide band armholes dispense with sleeves. This frock is shown in printed silks.

PLAYGROUND PROJECT BACKERS NEGOTIATE FURTHER WITH OWNERS OF DODDS TRACT IN EFFORT TO ACQUIRE LAND FOR PURPOSE

Motions setting forth that it is not possible for owners of the Dodds Addition to sell lots along the proposed park sites in their present condition and to appoint a committee to negotiate further with these owners in regard to acquiring the park immediately were passed at the meeting of the Community Recreation Association in the commission chamber of City Hall Monday night.

At the same time a membership committee was appointed by Chairman Edward M. Woodward to inspire a better attendance of representatives of civic, patriotic, fraternal and religious organizations at the next meeting of the Association to be held in the McKinley School auditorium next Monday evening. An effort will be made to have Ben Piers, recreational director in Dayton, speak at that meeting and present motion pictures of playground work in Dayton. The membership committee is composed of Ed. S. Davidson, chairman, the Rev. W. H. Tilford, Mrs. M. L. Wolf, Miss Rose Berry and P. B. Yockey.

Report of the negotiations of the committee with the owners of the tract, was submitted by Homer Spahr, secretary of the association, who read correspondence that had been carried on with William A. Kauffman, trustee of the Roberts estate representing the heirs and F. W. Dodds, who purchased the tract for development purposes with the intention of giving the 40-acre tract under discussion to the city.

Mr. Kauffman referred the committee to Mr. Dodds, as owner, although he expressed an interest in the plan. In a letter to the committee read at the meeting, Mr. Dodds said that it had been his desire since he first conceived the plan of developing the Roberts estate to save the tract under discussion for park purposes with the intention of giving it to the city as a memorial to his father. That this is still his sentiment was expressed in his letter, although admitted that a more successful sale of the building lots in other parts of the tract would be necessary to provide the financial resources to free the park tract from encumbrances.

In his letter Mr. Dodds said that with the eventual development of the park, lots along that section would be particularly valuable, and the sale of 95 lots bordering on the park district for a combined sum of $25,000 would enable him to clear the park of encumbrance and follow out his plan of a donation to the city. Sixty of the lots in question if sold at $300 apiece and 35 at $200 a piece would be sufficient to raise the amount and Mr. Dodds offered to sacrifice his selling commission of these lots to provide the entire sum to pay off the mortgage lien on the park premises.

The suggestion that another lot auction be held to dispose of the lots was considered at the meeting but discarded. Members of the committee believe that the building lots would sell readily if they were made accessible through the construction of proper gravel roads, and hold to the belief that if the committee should provide these streets, the sale of lots which would accrue would be sufficient guarantee for Mr. Dodds to complete the donation of the park. Further negotiation in an effort to overcome the difficulties that prevent Mr. Dodds from carrying out his original intention of a donation and that keep the city from acquiring an excellent park territory, will be up to the committee of five to be named by Mr. Woodward.

That the Association might proceed with the development of other neighborhood play centers while the Dodds park question is pending, was a suggestion made at the meeting. This was following the report submitted by John R. Beacham, chairman of the committee appointed at the last meeting to conduct a survey of possible playground sites all over the city. Mr. Beacham's report showed seven possible sites not including the Dodds location. One of these is the city owned property adjacent to the old work house, now the Hunt Broom Factory, on Dayton Avenue, which might be used for playground and recreation purposes. A second location is the Henry Sanborn property on Home Avenue, through which a stream passes that might be used to furnish water for a pool. The Allen Field, adjacent to the Monroe Street viaduct was a third field suggested. Property in the rear of residences on the east side of South Detroit Street south of Rogers Street was also suggested as was also property along Lake Street. Another site is in the eastern side of the Dodds Addition. The final site suggested was the Hoover & Allis Company golf course, which the committee chairman said he understood had been offered to children living in that territory for playgrounds purposes.

The plan of making a permanent organization was not effected at the meeting Monday night, but the chairman was instructed to appoint a non-

AMERICANS CROWD NEAR EAST DISTRICT

Constantinople, March 20.—Five hundred passengers from the liner, Homeric, on a two months' cruise of the Mediterranean, stopping in Constantinople for two days, helped to swell the American colony and brought together the largest number of Americans in the Near East since pre-war days.

A reception at the American embassy and a ball on board the Homeric, attended by the entire American colony in Constantinople, featured the stop-over.

Members of the Homeric's party came from eighteen different states of the Union. Among the most prominent are former Governor Nathan L. Miller, of New York; Benjamin Bacharach, mayor of Atlantic City, and Louis Bamberger, proprietor of a Newark, N. J., department store.

The call of the Homeric at Athens was cancelled owing to the prevalence of diseases and epidemics there, caused by the influx of refugees from Asia Minor.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

For Alice E.—Wholewheat Bread—One cup of scalded milk, one teaspoon of butter, one-half teaspoon of sugar, one-half teaspoon of salt, one-half cake of compressed yeast and about three cups of wholewheat flour. Put the scalded milk into a bowl with the butter, sugar and salt; when the milk has cooled to the luke-warm stage, add the yeast dissolved in one-third cup of luke-warm water. Then stir in the three cups of flour. It should now be stiff enough to hold its shape. Mix well but do not knead. Cover and let rise until double in bulk, then turn it out onto a floured board and knead it only enough to form it into two loaves. Place these loaves into two greased pans and when once more double in bulk, bake in a hot oven for 35 minutes. This bread takes in all, between four and five hours to make. If your local grocer does not carry the wholewheat flour, send me a s. a. e. and I will send you the name of a firm which sells it in small bags by parcel post. Many women have success with this wholewheat bread who fail on the white bread.

HARDING'S FOREIGN POLICY IS O. K.

The advocates of American membership in the league of nations—there are such persons—are doing poor service to world peace when they seize upon the proposal regarding the permanent court of international justice as evidence that the present administration is covertly seeking an opportunity to join the league of nations. Nothing could be further from the intention of President Harding, as is shown by his own statements, made before election and as recently as last week. If anything has been made clear, it is that the league of nations as framed at Paris is abhorrent to Mr. Harding's sense of Americanism. His kind of Americanism makes it impossible that he should contemplate American participation in the league of nations, and still less that he should attempt to bring about participation. The position which President Harding has taken toward the world court is not novel. He occupies the identical position now that he occupied as a candidate for President. His speeches during the campaign of 1920 referred to the projected international court, which was then under consideration by the leading jurists of the world. He favored the creation of a world court of justice, so constituted as to command the earnest support of the United States. He pointed out that the United States could not be expected to agree beforehand to submit any question to the court. The true course to pursue, he said, was to join in setting up a court which could adjudicate dispute between nations, supported by the public opinion of the world and not by bayonets. The gradual evolution of such a court, he believed, would command the support of world public opinion, as the United States Supreme Court has earned the support of American opinion. The Supreme Court, he said, had never called for force to execute its decrees, which were effective by the mere force of public opinion.

ALL EUROPE DOMINATED BY FEAR.

There would be greater importance attached to the tone of the Paris newspapers if they represented more fully than they do the actual sentiment of the French people. Unfortunately, the ethics of continental journalism differ sharply from those in vogue in either Great Britain or the United States, and the utterances of the chief newspapers are to be judged less as expressive of general public sentiment than as the reflection of the desires and purposes of the political or financial group which happens to be influential with the publisher. Into the merits of this situation it is not our purpose at present to go. Whether it is better for newspapers, as is common in the United States, for example, to seek popularity by striving to reflect what they think is the popular will of the moment, or for them to follow the Parisian practice of striving to direct public sentiment by preaching doctrines which a group may think advantageous either to the state or to the personal fortunes of those constituting the group, is a matter upon which there might be some interesting and profitable argument.

At present, however, we merely desire to emphasize the new tone of the Paris press toward the rapidly disintegrating entente. It has fallen a victim to FEAR—fear on the part of Great Britain that such trade as it may have with Germany will be destroyed, and its potential business relations overthrown, by the action of France and Belgium in the Ruhr; fear on the part of France and Belgium that Great Britain may intervene to prevent their carrying out to its ultimate their policy in the Ruhr; fear on the part of western Europe that Germany, Turkey and Russia may combine in a war upon the formerly victorious Allies. Whatever of promise there may have been in the Versailles Treaty for the restoration of normal conditions in Europe, and there was little enough, is being wholly obliterated by the growth among every people of apprehension as to what its neighbor may be planning for the future.

SELF-PITY, SIGN OF WEAKNESS.

"Have you among your friends or acquaintances any men or women who are always pitying themselves?" asks Forbes Magazine. "If so, you can set them down as weaklings. Self-pity is self-destruction. Self-pity slays one's self reliance. Self-pity breeds despair. The strong don't indulge in self-pity. They are too busy thinking and working and talking constructively. They are intent on attaining some object, some goal. They are so engrossed in practicing self help that they have no time to waste on self-pity."

"Self-pity is not only a bad habit; it is a poisonous habit," continues Forbes. "It hurts self and it disgusts others. The person who is chronically guilty of self-pity hasn't in him the spirit of self-sacrifice, and without self-sacrifice no human being can qualify to go far or rise far. Self-pity reveals a lack of self-discipline. We all encounter difficulties and discouragements we all have ambitions thwarted. But we do not let discouragements discourage; we do not give up because balked and thwarted time and again; we do not wear our occasional streak of pessimism on our sleeve or on our countenance. We keep a stiff upper lip. We wrestle on. And we smile on. We don't become cry-babies. We may inwardly wince, but we don't pour tales of woe into the ears of others—we know they have trouble enough of their own."

"We refuse to be cowards. We refuse to wear the white feather. We strive to be men. We become men. We are men."

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Never before in years has there been such warm weather in March as the past few days. The thermometers hanging about the business center of Xenia have been registering upward in 70. This is something wonderful when it is considered that just a month ago Xenians were having the coldest weather of the winter.

Mr. W. E. Cox, who for some years has been the agent for the

C. H. and D. railroad in this city has tendered his resignation. Mr. Cox will take a position in the business office of the Hooven and Allison company.

According to present plans the Beveridge paper mill will be ready to begin operations about April 15. The buildings are nearly all completed. The plant will be a fine one in every particular and it will be one of Xenia's best industries.

ANSWERED LETTERS

Liberty Girls—When the hands have a tendency to redden during the cold weather, rub dry coarse salt into them after washing and drying in the usual way.

If the skin is inclined to be dry and grimey, follow each washing by rubbing into the hands a small amount of any of lotions that contain honey and almond. Such a lotion is very convenient to use as it is absorbed at once leaving the skin refreshed, while there will be no oiliness to be removed as there would be if cream or an oil had been used. These lotions, however, merely give a temporary effect, but that is all that should be needed ordinarily.

Dolly—Sprits of camphor should not be used on a dry skin as it would increase this tendency. The mixture of rose water and glycerine is best for the hands, creams are needed for complexion. Perhaps you are using a vanishing cream on your face which could account for that condition; if so change to an oily cream of the best quality, one made from expressed English almond oil. After the skin had absorbed all that is needed remove surplus and close the pores by rubbing over the face and throat a small piece of ice, or if that is not convenient, dashes of very cold water will be a fair substitute.

Sixteen—At your age there is usually a tendency to pimples which is often only a temporary thing. Keep the system regulated through a simple diet and drink plenty of water. Miss Mary K.—This dark ring around your mouth shows that your liver is very sluggish. Consult the doctor about this.

D. L.—It would not be objectionable if you did not return the fork to the right hand, if you choose to eat some of the meat while cutting it. The handling of the fork varies in different countries, but since you are an America you will be quite correct if you use the fork in the right hand at all times, except when that hand is needed for the knife in cutting. This American habit of conveying the food to the mouth on the fork from the right hand is being adopted now in England and some of the countries on the continent.

Dissolve the tar in any oil to make it thin enough for the scalp applications.

Mrs. M. M.—For the fine lines that are appearing under the eyes, feed all the tissues of face and throat by using plenty of nourishing cream. As astringent treatment should be taken also whenever the skin needs it—in most cases this will be once a week.

As most lines result from the sagging of the facial and throat muscles, both nourishing and astringent treatments are needed to overcome them.

Tomorrow—Touching Up the Lips.

HONEST PRAISE

I know of nothing that warms the rooms of the heart like honest praise. A race horse goes better after a pat on the nose.

Smile at your child and ask him to do your errand and he will go to it with a whistle on his lips.

Praise and appreciation are beyond purchase price.

I do not like eulogies after people have been removed from mortal hearing. I want all my praises given me right now—and I am sure that everyone feels the same way about it.

I have never known honest praise to hurt anyone. And I have seen it transform otherwise sour and despondent persons into sweet and inspiring characters.

Take the dumb animal, for example. Note his reaction to a kind word or an extra pat.

How he expresses his appreciation, in his own peculiar way. Perhaps it is nothing more than the straight sparkling look in his eyes. But you know that he knows.

Did you ever notice how some managers will get so much more work out of workers than others? Simply by honest praise.

And, after all, that is what makes the manager, as well as the ones he manages.

Whether we are high or low in the scale of success, we need praise and appreciation all along the way.

How many salesmen have been po-

lutely turned down, only to go to his next prospect with increased determination because he was praised for his work by his house, or by the man who turned him down.

It is a good thing that we fall many times. It gives someone who may be interested in us a chance to praise us for what we have tried to do—spurring us on to win.

AMERICA ACCEPTS ALLIED PROPOSAL

Paris, March 20.—In the reply from the state department, which Eliot Wadsworth handed to the allies, the United States declines to consider counting the value of German ships seized in American ports as part payment of the costs of its Rhine army. The United States, however, accepts the proposal of the allies to pay the total sum due, put at $257,000,000, out of future payments from Germany, but insists that the bill must be paid sooner than the 12-year period specified in the allied offer. Neutral diplomatic circles are surprised at America's acceptance, which gives the United States an interest in forcing Germany to hasten reparations payments to the allies. In some quarters the note is even considered as a tacit endorsement of the French occupation of the Ruhr.

KATO BOLD NOW, BUT TO QUIT AS JAP DIET ENDS

Tokio, March 10.—The first weeks of the annual Diet session have failed to make a dent in the front displayed by the administration of Admiral Baron Kato, the Premier. The opposition in both houses repeatedly requested that the Premier assume responsibility for this or that thing and, with his Cabinet, resign. But the cool voice of Baron Kato always replied firmly in the negative. In fact he is changed but little, save that illness and the cares of state have added to his gray hairs and the wrinkles on his face.

The Privy Council is out after the Cabinet, too. It is necessary, but the only scalp really sought is that of Count Uchida, Minister of Foreign Affairs. Japan has been gripped recently by a so-called critical dispute between the cabinet and the Privy Council. The public has swung this way and that, but to all outward appearances, the Cabinet was not perturbed beyond discussion of the matter. The dispute arises when the Cabinet, purporting to follow Kato's Washington policy, negotiated a treaty with China for the withdrawal of Japanese post offices from China and did not consult the Privy Council until the agreement was signed. Few treaties have been concluded in this manner. For the most part the Privy Council consists of gray-haired statesmen whose former part in Government affairs makes them think they should be consulted on every move by the Cabinet. Explanations and apologies settled the matter, after the Privy Council appealed to the throne, and the Prince Regent, so far as is known, upheld Premier Kato. Then the council discovered that at one time the Government said the treaty became effective upon its signature at Peking and at another time declared it went into force when the Prince Regent gave his sanction. The Cabinet refused to oust Count Uchida, but the matter was settled until the Diet is over.

While functioning but little, the Privy Council has great powers, and to incur its displeasure means trouble for any administration. For that reason it is lucky for Premier Kato that he has smoothed things over for the time being. When the Diet ends that body probably will go after Count Uchida.

That suits Premier Kato perfectly—and the Seiyukai, majority party too.

But he expects to beat them to it. The Premier has planned for months that his Ministry should retire from office upon completion of the Diet session, provided the Seiyukai is strong enough at that time to resume the reins of government. Unless some mishap should cause the majority party trouble it will organize a Cabinet in the latter part of April or the first of May and, with the aid of the surviving Genro, be ready to take over the Government when Premier Kato retires. And he will resign when the Seiyukai—and the Genro—tell him to do so for a number of reasons, among which is his own conviction that his non-party Government is retarding the progress of constitutional government in Japan. Of course, in a pinch lack of such a conviction, wouldn't save him, but he has it, anyway.

WORLD'S GOLD IS BURDEN, NOT BLESSING, TO AMERICA, BRITISH ECONOMIST'S VIEW

New York, March 19.—Financial experts estimate that approximately 55 per cent of the world's gold supply is in America at the present time. This amounts to about $4,000,000,000.

By F. A. WRAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

London, March 19.—That a great stock of gold is a real danger to a country instead of being a security is the belief of Sir Josiah Stamp, foremost British economist. Sir Josiah, who framed the economic clauses of the Treaty of Versailles, was Assistant Secretary of the Board of Inland Revenue, from 1916 to 1919. "Now that the greatest assemblage of gold that the world has ever seen has been deposited in the vaults of New York," says Sir Josiah, "far-seeing men and women on both sides of the Atlantic are beginning to realize a remarkable economic paradox. 'This enormous store of the precious metal does not make for wealth or safety. It does not make lighter the burden of the people of the United States; it lays them open to innumerable perils.'

Enormous Gold Reserve
"The United States Government today possesses nearly half the total supply of the world's gold, according to the latest report of Mr. W. C. C. Crisinger, the Comptroller of Currency. This does not necessarily mean that America is better clothed or housed, or fed than we in Britain. You cannot eat gold. You cannot make it into clothes. You cannot build houses of it. Gold is, in fact, almost a useless thing when it comes to ministering to the real needs of a human being. Its chief function is to serve as the foundation for the structure of credit and as a basis of value and exchange.

"This gold must either be kept in internal vaults or have an enormous effect on prices, or it must go out of the country to purchase goods. 'The whole economic structure of America has been tending to become that of an exporting country, and, of course, her tariffs are based in that way against imports, whereas with the payment of a debt by Britain and also the advisability of exchanging this gold for goods, she is now almost inviting an influx of goods which must go against her whole economic inclination.

Must Keep It
"She will naturally not like sending the gold out of the country to receive goods in exchange. That would raise a howl at once against the tariff. Therefore, she is driven to keeping it within her own country. It leaves her vaults and goes into general use it will have the effect of vastly increasing prices unless there is an enormous increase in production.

"But there is an even more insidious danger—that the possession of this quantity of gold may lead the Federal Reserve Board largely to inflate currency. When the bullion is unloaded in harbor it is carried to the vaults for safe keeping, and then it remains in reserve. 'Supposing the percentage of reserve under normal conditions in America to be 40 per cent, this means that for every $100 of purchasing power and credit in circulation she has $40 in gold worth while to back it. But today, owing to the enormous quantity of gold, her reserve is approaching double that figure and she is rapidly reaching the point where every dollar of purchasing power on the Continent could be replaced by gold of its face value.

Danger Dormant Now
"As long as the gold is untouched the danger is dormant. But if when an improvement occurs in trade, business men seek large increases in credit the Federal Reserve Board may be tempted to lower this reserve ratio so as to give them all that their ambitious programs may require. They might think to themselves 'It would do no harm to let the reserve down by 5 points' and inflate the note issue accordingly.

"This may have much the same effect as if there were a Government press printing paper marks. 'Let us suppose that they succumb to the suggestion. Credit becomes more plentiful because the ratio reserve is lowered. More paper dollars are available, so that prices rise, with the result that a dollar note no longer buys the old quantity of goods. Inflation sets in, with the subsequent Nemesis.

Perils of Inflation
"Workmen demand higher wages, and strikes come, with their inevitable consequences of economic dead-

loc hand the subsequent collapse of industry.

"Thus the undulations of industry are made more severe, whereas the desire of everyone is to introduce a greater stability in trading conditions over the passage of the years.

"What we want to do is to avoid the severity of trade cycles, for every spasm of artificial influence leads further away from the desired object. Every burst of inflation raises many new social difficulties and just as we are getting into comparatively level waters after the rough seas of the war we naturally dread new disturbances which may arise in this way.

Vitality and Strength Follow This Advice

Cambridge, Ohio.—"As I look back I wonder how much sickness I could have avoided, had I known of and taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription when I first showed signs of nervousness and a decline in strength. I was willing to try anything that was suggested to me and did try many things, but none seemed to reach the seat of the trouble or do me any good. At last I heard of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, when my condition was very low, and its tonic strengthening effect was felt before the first bottle was entirely used, by increased strength and cheerfulness of spirits. I continued taking it until I had used six bottles, when there was no need for me to use it further, as I was a well woman."—Mrs. E. A. Stevens, 405 S. 8th St.

TO FACE JUVENILE JUDGE ON THURSDAY

Ralph Coates, 12, Ralph Terrell, 12, and Robert Terrell, 11, will come before Juvenile Judge J. Carl Marshall Thursday afternoon for juvenile delinquency.

The youths were arrested Monday afternoon by Patrolman Ancil Stephens on charge of entering and robbing the Cincinnati Avenue store of the Kennedy Grocery Company Sunday afternoon.

Later all three youths confessed to entering a store room in the rear of the Famous Cheap Store, East Main Street, where they admitted stealing a quantity of candy. At the Kennedy store, which they burglarized later, the boys lost part of the candy taken at the cheap store, which led to the discovery that they were responsible for both affairs.

At the Kennedy store about $10 was taken from the cash register and some candy stolen. The trio then went to Dayton for a good time. They have been before Judge Marshall before for delinquency.

ANOTHER NEAR EAST PARLEY IS LIKELY—CONSIDER PROPOSAL

Allied Experts to Take Up Turkey's Latest Propositions

London, March 20.—The most interesting development in connection with the German and near east situations is the summoning here of Lord D'Abernon, ambassador to Berlin, and General Harrington, British commander in chief at Constantinople.

Allied experts, with Lord Curzon presiding, will begin here tomorrow to consider Turkey's new proposals. It is predicted that as a result of these deliberations there will be a new conference to resume the negotiations which were broken down through failure of the Lausanne near east peace conference.

Premier Bonar Law, in the house of commons, revealed the fact that at the Paris conference Britain suggested a sum approximating $12,500,000,000 as a reparations total which would be within Germany's ability to pay, subject to a moratorium. The premier denied that he had any knowledge that Germany had offered $7,500,000,000 at that time.

Despite the stand-offish attitude of Berlin and Paris, it is learned from various sources that unofficial conversations are proceeding over Lord Robert Cecil's proposal to demilitarize a zone along the Rhine and for international control of the railways in that zone, and it is declared that the plan is growing in favor with the French.

Lord Curzon recently intimated that he expected a new German offer in a few days. It is significant that the German ambassador in London had a long conference with officials at the British foreign office today.

It is authoritatively denied at Berlin that Dr. H. H. Dieckhoff, counsellor of the German embassy at Washington, on his visit to Secretary Hughes Friday submitted any memorial of any kind or suggested intervention by the United States between Germany and France.

There is a deep note of pessimism in German government circles. It is declared that as long as Poincare insists upon proposals that are equivalent to unconditional capitulation there is nothing left for Chancellor Cuno to do but continue resistance.

BRITISH WILL PAY FULL DEBT AMOUNT

Washington, March 20.—The British government has notified the American debt funding commission, it was announced at the treasury, that it will pay the full amount of principal and interest provided for in the debt settlement plan the first year.

The British will not exercise the option given them to defer half the interest charge and add that to the principal of the debt. The option gives the British this privilege for any of the first five years of the 62-year liquidation period. It was incorporated into the settlement plan to give the British protection against a wildly fluctuating or adverse exchange during the early years of the liquidation while European financial and economic conditions are in an uncertain state.

The treasury regards the decision of the British to pay in full the first year's installment of principal and interest as a favorable omen. It reflects a confidence in the British mind for the present and immediate future business outlook.

The principal payment provided for the first year is $23,000,000, with interest of $138,000,000, making a total payment for 1922 of $161,000,000. This is in addition to the payment of a little more than $4,000,000 cash upon conclusion of the settlement agreement to reduce the total principal as of Jan. 1 to $4,600,000,000.

ANTIOCH HAS IMPOSING COURT CHANCELLORS TO PLAY; CEDARVILLE HIGH WINS LAST ONE GREENE COUNTY GIRLS WIN TOURNAMENT

Antioch Books Schedule

Coach Earl Prugh of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, booked up an imposing court schedule for his next season's basketball team at the meeting of Ohio Conference officials in Columbus Monday to arrange court schedules for next year.

Coach Prugh's efforts in booking high class schools for his pets to meet has served to bring much athletic prestige to the Yellow Springs School in spite of the fact that the mentor is hampered by the co-operative plan of education which means a continual change of his athletes. Even with this rule in effect Antioch has a victory over Ohio Wesleyan to its credit for the season just closed.

Antioch's schedule next season is as follows: December 8, Cincinnati at Yellow Springs; January 5, Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware; January 11, Wittenberg at Springfield; January 15, Capital at Yellow Springs; January 19, Miami at Oxford; January 26, Muskingum at Yellow Springs; February 1, Ashland at Yellow Springs; February 8, Heidelberg at Yellow Springs; February 15, Goodyear at Akron; February 16, Ashland at Ashland; February 23, Mt. Union at Yellow Springs; March 5, Kenyon at Yellow Springs.

Green Countians Win

Miss Florence Johnson of Yellow Springs won first prize and Miss Eleanor Alexander won second prize in the girls' basketball foul shooting contest held in the Springfield Y. W. C. A. under the auspices of the Springfield Sun Monday night.

Miss Johnson made 12 baskets in the 25 free throws allowed and besides the title of tournament winner was awarded a medal by the Sun for the best foul shooter. Miss Alexander made nine shots good out of the 25 attempts to win the second prize.

In capturing first place Miss Johnson was the second out of town winner in the tournament. V. R. Greeting of North Hampton, taking the men's and boys' tournament honors by shooting 22 baskets out of 25 attempts. Thirty-seven girls participated in the girls' division of the foul shooting tourney, 19 shooting last Thursday night and the rest Monday night. The best scores made opening night were made by four girls who tied at eight baskets each.

Chancellors To Play

The East High basketball team will not play the South Detroit Street Merchants at the Rink Wednesday evening as announced, the team having disbanded for the season, but the Xenia Chancellors, a team made up of high school players will play. Members of the team will be Porter, Taylor, E. Ware, J. Ware, D. Ware and Baker.

The game will be played preliminary to the second contest between the Famous Autos and the American Legion five to decide the city championship. The first game last Wednesday resulted in a victory for the Autos and gives them an edge of one game on the series and the city championship title. Tickets are now on sale for the tilt at 55 cents apiece.

Cedarville Wins Last Game

Cedarville High School basketball team, Greene County champions as decided at the Antioch tournament, sang its swan song in Cedarville Friday night by defeating New Paris High, Preble County Champions, 23 to 11 at Alford Memorial gymnasium. While Cedarville was capturing the Greene County championship New Paris was busy attaching the championship title of Preble County, and these lads proved their championship ability in the real opposition they furnished Cedarville Friday night.

Air-tight defense exhibited by Cedarville in the initial half enabled the champs to come out that period with the long end of a 14 to 2 score. New Paris did not score a single field goal in the first half. The teams battled on more even terms each team scoring nine points. Webster and Johnson starred for Cedarville, these lads playing their last game for Cedarville as they will graduate this year.

Robin Hoods Lose Game

The Robin Hoods lost the first baseball game of the season, Saturday afternoon being defeated 25 to 22 by the sixth grade Lionhearts. The Robin Hoods claim poor officiating cost them the game, and again challenge any third, fourth or fifth grade teams for games. The lineup: Robin Hoods—Ball, c; Lorimer, p; Bankard, 1b; Shaffer, 2b; Davidson, 3b; Charles Adair, 1b; Clinton Adair, c; King, rf; Lionhearts L. Bicany, c; Milburn, p; Fisher 1b; R. Bicany, 2b; Lightner, 3b.

NEED LIGHTER AND SWIFTER CRAFT FOR UNITED STATES NAVY

Maneuvers Show Lack of These Qualities In Present Ships.

Sabao, Panama, March 20.—Destroyers demonstrated the absolute necessity of lighter and swifter ships for the American navy in a series of maneuvers off Panama bay. A fleet of superdreadnaughts, protected only by seaplanes, was driven from its course by the on-rushing destroyers, who attacked from behind an impenetrable smoke screen. Dummy torpedoes scored direct hits on the Idaho and Tennessee and forced them out of commission.

In the second engagement, to test the value of destroyers acting with a fleet, a unit of 19 destroyers was enabled to ward off the attacks from a similar force of the lighter craft and give the battle fleet time to maneuver into an advantageous position. During the firing of torpedoes the destroyers frequently scored three hits out of three shots, which were allowed each ship.

BANKS BIDDING FOR FUNDS FROM STATE

Columbus, March 20.—State treasury officials announced that bids just opened on $28,000,000 worth of state depository funds are somewhat lower than proposals of two years ago. Bids of 10 Columbus banks for $7,000,000 in active funds ranged from 2.57 per cent to 3.78. Several hundreds bids were received from banks outside of Columbus for approximately $21,000,000 of inactive depository funds. The average was 4.25.

WANT FRANCHISE FOR BUS COMPANY

Los Angeles, March 17.—A request was received by the city council recently that a franchise be granted a motor bus company desiring to establish lines in Los Angeles from Mrs. Hattie Welke, who declared that out of 1,150 street car rides from her home to the downtown business district and return she had been able to secure a seat only four times. The rides, she said, were spread over a period of four years.

In view of the lack of accommodations provided by the street car companies, she argued, the street car system should be supplemented by motor bus lines. The matter was referred to the city's Board of Public Utilities.

FERY CROSS BURNED IN XENIA ON TUESDAY NIGHT BY KLANSMEN

The burning of a Fery Cross at the north end of Collier Street, in the street laid off in the Dadds addition between the Library and the new Central High School building gave first evidence of the presence here of the Invisible Empire, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Monday night about eight o'clock.

The large cross burned several minutes attracting the attention of many people and resulting in numerous calls to Police Headquarters. The burning of the cross was followed by the exploding of bombs in several sections of the city, the explosives being set off at the scene of the cross, on East Church Street, near the railroad yards and on West Second St. There was no demonstration.

Reports that other crosses had been burned in other parts of the city simultaneously could not be verified. The cross burned in the Dadds addition was still standing Tuesday and was sought out by sightseers. The cross was made of heavy timber, standing about 12 feet high with the cross arms about six feet long.

Police believe that visiting members of the Invisible Empire, mostly from Dayton, were here for the installation of a local chapter of the organization Monday night. Thirty five or forty visiting Knights are said to have invaded Xenia from Dayton. They were not in uniform. A party of men accosted on the street by Chief of Police M. E. Graham denied setting off the bombs. They were afterwards seen to enter the Mason building, Detroit and Market Street, where police say Klan headquarters is located.

COUNTRY NOW IN PERIOD OF BUSINESS PROSPERITY AND GENERAL CONFIDENCE SAYS CLEVELAND FIRM

Cleveland, March 20.—"The country is now in a period of business prosperity and general confidence," says the Cleveland Trust Company in its mid-month business review for March made public today.

"The evidence of good times are to be seen in record breaking freight movements, general shortage of workers, rising prices and wages, increasing security values, great industrial production and fewer insolvencies."

"Recent economic studies indicate that business never moves for long on any given level."

"Business tends to move through recurrent phases of depression, recovery, prosperity and decline, leading to another period of depression, after which the cycle starts all over again."

"The time from prosperity to prosperity or from decline to decline tends to be on the average about forty months, or three and one third years, although any single cycle may be longer or shorter than this."

JOY OF HEALTH WOMAN'S RIGHT

Mrs. Evans Freed from Female Weakness by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Detroit, Michigan.—"I had female weakness with pains in my back, and I could not stand on my feet for any length of time. I was working in a factory but had to quit as I was too much on my feet. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me, and I can hardly believe it myself that I am well. Oh, it is a grand thing to have your health! I feel well all the time and can go out like other women and not feel that awful torture. When I took your medicine first I thought it should cure after the first bottle, but I am glad my husband kept me at it. I have had nine bottles and now I am well."—Mrs. JENNY EVANS, 1604 Lafayette Blvd., Detroit, Michigan.

If you are suffering from displacements, irregularities, backache, nervousness or other forms of female weakness, you should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The reason is given in letters like these, and we have published thousands of them. You may expect that a medicine that has helped other women will help you. Try it.

FIFTEEN INDICTED FOR VIOLATION OF U. S. NARCOTIC LAW

Louisville, Ky., March 20.—Fifteen indictments charging violation of the Harrison narcotic act were handed up in the United States district court for the western district of Kentucky by the federal grand jury. The defendants, two of whom were women, are street peddlers, the indictments charge.

Federal narcotic agents under George W. Cunningham, chief of the southern division, were called in on the cases. They made the arrests and last week the evidence was presented to the grand jury, which returned true bills in every case, some of which carry several counts.

The cases were called by Federal Judge Walter Evans and he continued them all for trial, at the request of United States Attorney W. Sherman Ball, who told the court he wanted to try all the cases at once. Judge Evans, in swearing in the grand jury, made a special charge on violators of the Harrison act, and stated that he would deal harshly with any defendants tried by him and found guilty of being dope peddlers.

The Louisville investigation came about after a shipment of nine pounds of morphine and cocaine were seized in New York city by federal agents at Christmas time. This shipment was being sent by express to a young woman in Louisville. She later refused to accept the package.

Investigators found conditions in Louisville extremely bad for the size of the city. The 15 indicted peddlers were the largest illicit dope dealers in the city, the government agents allege. A large quantity of narcotics were seized when the arrests were made in January. Louisville has been one of the spots from which smaller cities in the south have been supplied with drugs, the original shipment coming to Louisville from New York for distribution, federal agents assert.

A PURITAN WIFE

By Jane Phelps

DICK IS INTOXICATED. SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.

Ann Peabody, a New England girl, marries Dick Belden, a California rancher. The latter has his faults, although he is lovable, too.

Grace Edmunds, working for a moving picture concern and a cousin to Ned and Bessie Prentice—nearest neighbors of Dick's and Ann's—make the latter's home headquarters.

Immediately different events arouse Ann's jealousy. Dick breaks his leg and Grace insists on nursing him—until one day when she gives him a drink Ann tells her she must leave. Grace writes a note to Dick, signing it "Your Sunbeam." Then she calls, in company with the Prentices.

CHAPTER XXXVII

"Is 'Sunbeam' a pet name for Grace?" Ann asked as she and Dick stood side by side, watching their guests depart. Had she stopped to think she would not have asked the question, but the words came without thought of consequences.

"What if it is? She was a sunbeam to me when I lay cooped up in bed." Dick's tone was aggressive.

Oh, nothing! I just wondered, that's all." Sorry she had spoken, Ann turned and went into the house, leaving Dick outside. To her sensitiveness, Grace entering the home after she had practically ordered her out, was incomprehensible. And she had acted as if nothing had happened, as if she intended to keep up the old intimacy with Dick, make their home hers, as she had been from the beginning.

Ann had broken the whiskey bottle into bits, a sign of temper very foreign to her. She knew that remark about a "man-sized man" must have made Dick cringe; that he hated to be thought unable to do what any other man could or did do. That the sentence which followed it was cleverly designed she had no doubt. Grace had said she respected, looked up to him, that she (Ann) treated him as if he were a fool; and her advice to him to assert himself, if he didn't want to be laughed at showed how cleverly Grace had played upon his weaknesses.

"He believes all she says, believes in her. I feel so helpless," Ann said to herself. "If I say anything to him he would only think she was right in saying I am narrow and ignorant."

So Ann remained silent, eating her heart out because of her fears when Dick was morose or quiet, hopeful when he would be his old tender self.

He constantly praised her work, what she had done while he was confined in the house. "Told her she was a wonder, a great little business girl, and so on. But he had not been as generous with praise of her as a woman, he had not been as free with his caresses, his kisses. Ann knew this was due to what Grace had said, that he had been influenced by her letter to believe she, Ann, made him look unmanly, that she belittled him. He was obliged to go to town and Ann could not refrain from cautioning him.

"Don't drink anything, Dick. Your leg isn't strong yet, and you might have another accident." It was the first time he had driven the flivver alone.

"I'm no molly-coddle! Even if you try to make me one," he declared, using the expression of Grace's letter. Ann said no more, but her eyes entreated. She had dreaded this visit to town for him, feared he might take the opportunity to show he wasn't ruled by her wishes.

"Don't look so solemn, I shan't forget anything," he said testily as he noted her glance.

"I hadn't even thought of that, dear, I was thinking only of you, the danger of an accident."

"Well, you are the original Mrs. Gloom nowadays. If it isn't one thing it's another! Don't be always hunting trouble." Then he changed his tone, discussed some of the business plans with her in his old deferential way, tossed little Jack in the air a few times, kissed them both, and waved goodbye two or three times before the car reached a turn in the road that hid it from sight.

Before his accident Dick had made a resolve to do his errands before joining the men he knew who happened to be in town. Ann was, of course pleased to have him bring home the articles that necessitated the trip, but she did not flatter herself it proved his forgetfulness was in any way cured. He simply couldn't forget because there was nothing for him to forget if everything was purchased and in the flivver before he drank. And over her hung like a pall that feeling that sometime he would fall to do this, and forget something vital—something as bad or worse than when the crop froze and almost destroyed his year's work.

This peculiar loss of memory, such absolute obliviousness, had always frightened Ann. Dick could drive the car, get home all right, but to forget as he did, seemed a disease that might result in a total loss of memory some day.

"Why he might forget baby and me," she said as she thought of it. He often failed to recall whom he had seen, with whom he drank. She tried not to worry unnecessarily, but always when he was away, she was anxious.

He was patently intoxicated when he returned, and as he lurched into the house, said:

"I'll drink when and what I please. 'Sunbeam' doesn't object," then fell heavily upon the couch and was asleep almost instantly.

Grace—what she said was in his mind, made him drink more than usual," Ann muttered, as she put all the things on the list away. Not one was forgotten, all bought before he drank anything.

EXAMINE FOURTEEN CHILDREN TUESDAY AT CRIPPLED CLINIC

Fourteen children were examined Monday morning by Dr. James Walker of Dayton, at a crippled children's clinic, conducted by the Xenia Rotary Club at the Greene County Chapter of the Red Cross. Eight children were from Xenia and six from the county, three of the six county children being from Osborn, one from Fairfield, one from New Burlington and one from Beavercreek township.

Dr. Walker was assisted by Dr. R. K. Finley, of the Rotary Club, Miss Helen Evers and Miss Jennie Moffett. The Rev. L. L. of Fairfield, a member of the Red Cross committee of Bath Township brought in three children, to the clinic. J. Harry Nagley and George P. Tiffany of the Rotary Club, gave their time and the use of their machines during the morning. The Red Cross car was also used.

ASKS IF IT'S PROPER TO MAKE POTPIE OUT OF LOOSE CHICKENS

That it is unlawful for chickens to run at large is the construction placed upon a city ordinance by Acting City Manager T. H. Zell, in answer to a letter addressed to the editor of the Gazette and The Republican, signed "Reader."

The letter follows: "If one's neighbors can't pen up or lariat out their chickens wouldn't it be a good idea to have a potpie now and then to compensate for the damage they do?"

"If that wouldn't be the proper thing to do, isn't there an ordinance against chickens running at large?"

The ordinance cited by Acting Manager Zell holds that it is unlawful for the owner or owners or person or persons having charge of animals and livestock, including chickens, to permit them to run at large in any street, alley or public highway or upon any common or public ground or any enclosed land within the corporate limits.

Acting Manager Zell construes the words "enclosed property" to mean private grounds and that chickens running at large in that way are doing so in violation of the law. Complaint directed to the Police Department by complainants would result in action under the ordinance.

TWO ARE KILLED IN EXPLOSION

U. S. OFFICIALS SAY FLIGHT IS NOW POSSIBLE

Been Made by Department Officers

Army Men Say T-2 Is Suit-
able for Expedition Now
Being Talked of

Washington, March 20.—An around-
the-world airplane flight is now under
consideration by the army air service,
it was learned officially today.

Studies of possible routes already
have been made and though still in-
progressed far enough to convince officials the proposed flight is entirely
feasible. The army air service also
has at least one "ship" which veter-
an pilots believe is capable of making the flight.

The main routes for the flight already have been determined upon and
trip alternative routes have been selected. A solution has been found, officials believe, for the problem of
the Pacific, hitherto regarded as
presenting insurmountable difficulties
in the present stage of air craft development.

No attempt would be made to fly
directly across the Pacific, officials
say, but the plane would cross to Siberia from the Aleutian Islands, off
the coast of Alaska.

Starting at Bolling Field, the proposed route passes through the national capital to Detroit, thence
across a portion of Canada to Alaska
and the Aleutian Islands. A comparatively short flight across the Bering Sea would bring the plane to Kam-
chatka and another of about the same
duration across the Sea of Okhotsk
would bring it to Vladivostok.

lies along the China coast to Singapore, across the Bay of Bengal and
the Dekhan of India to Bombay.
From Bombay the route would follow
the coast already laid out by British fliers, across Mesopotamia, up the
and London.

From England to the United States
there are two feasible routes, the
southern by way of the Azores, and
Greenland and Canada.

Since British airmen have made
flights to Mesopotamia, India and
even to Australia and since fliers
have crossed the Atlantic the only
part of the route which remains un-
tested is that across the Bering
Sea and down the coast of China.
Owing to the shortness of days in
the northern regions in winter, officials have selected the months of
for making this part of the flight.

Before the world flight can be attempted, it will be necessary, of
stations at fixed intervals along the
proposed route and arrangements
ments of the various territories to be
traversed, for permission to land
where necessary.

Army officers believe the T-2, the
Ready of the air service recently set
world.

URGES ROTARY TO LOOK AFTER BOYS

Cincinnati, O., March 20.—"The greatest work that the International Rotary Club can do is to look after the boy," Charles F. Watkins, of Muncie, Ind., told delegates attending a district conference here yesterday.
"Our jails, penitentiaries and asylums for insane today are full of men who were the neglected boys of yesterday," he said.
The convention adjourned at noon
today.

THIRTY HOMES IN PATH OF BLAZE

Key West, Fla., March 20.—More than thirty homes were destroyed
by fire here early today when a stubborn blaze swept over several blocks
doing approximately $90,000 damage. No loss of life was reported.
The fire started in a cigar factory and gained great headway before
it was noticed, according to police.

TORONTO SCHOONER IN BERMUDA RACE

Commodore Jarvis, of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, has entered his
schooner yacht Haswell in the New York to Bermuda race, to be sailed
in June. At least 20 yachts are expected to compete.

BOOZE SWINDLE, THEN SLEEPING POTION AND $50,000 IS MISSING

Cincinnati, O., March 20.—Using
the prospective sale of 200 cases of
bonded whiskey as bait, a gang of Cincinnati confidence men took a
swindle that left him $50,000 poorer
with not even worthless stock cer-
last night.

been William B. Jones of West More-
land County, Pa. Jones awoke yesterday after an 18-hour nap superin-
duced by the narcotic.

detectives at work on the case, the
liquor offer led to talk of stock man-
ipulations promising huge profits. A
bottle of a familiar brand of Kentucky liquor, brought out to celebrate the almost completed bargain,
was the last thing Jones recalled.
But when he awoke, he told police,
he had been robbed of twenty $1,000
bills and three $10,000 bills.

ORDER SUSPENSION OF POLICE CHIEF

W. Post announced that Governor
Donahay had told him to discharge
Police Chief T. W. Thompson within 30 days, under penalty of being himself removed as mayor. Complaints
made to the governor some time ago
by citizens of Salem. Mayor Post
said that he would suspend the chief,
that the case would go to the civil service commission and that the governor then would have to prove
charges against the police chief.

Police Judge Sustains Mo-
Cortner Off

Springfield, O., March 20.—The
bottom fell out of the state's case against W. M. Cortner, klieg of the Springfield Ku Klux Klan, charged with "riotous conspiracy"
when Police Judge Golden C. Davis today sustained the motion of the defense to dismiss Cortner.

Dismissal of the case carries with
it the return of all the property seized
in the raid on Klan headquarters
ruled.

the state from taking the case before a special grand jury and in-
evidence.

Police Prosecutor Justin Altschul
and Attorney J. B. Malone, special
counsel for the state, refused to make
further prosecution of the case.

Clark County Prosecuting Attorney
O. L. McKinney said there will be
no action taken by his office to carry
the case before a grand jury for investigation.

"No special grand jury will be called
said Clark County Common Pleas
Judge Frank W. Geiger.

"The regular grand jury will convene in about ten days and I have
received no information that the case
will be brought up before it."

Judge Davis, in handing down his
decision, said:

"The finding of this court does not
prevent the state, or parties interested in the prosecution, from taking
investigation. This court desires it to
be understood that it will not con-
strue such a course as personal discourage or judicial disrespect. It feels that such action would be just-
ified because of the general and wide-

Beams, alias Jack Ross, who Sunday
night led an attempted jail delivery
in which forty inmates of the Hamilton county jail participated, and Jack O'Brien, his lieutenant in the effort
are being held in solitary confinement.

Court officials plan to seek extension of the sentences of both because of the attempted escape. New charges, against them make the form of indictments because of the beating of
a trusty.

Chicago, March 20.—The Sixteenth
Street Bank, with deposits of $5080-
000, was ordered closed today by the
state bank examiner's office after
all its officers resigned.

BRIBE RUMORS TO BE PROBED IN COMMITTEE

Ohio Senate to Pass On Res-

TWO ARE OFFERED Action Revolves Around Proposed Measure Re- garding Hotels

Columbus, O., March 20.—The Senate rules committee is scheduled to
meet today and take action on two
resolutions providing for an investigation of bribe rumors in connection
with the bill, introduced by Senator
Marshall, Cleveland, reducing the
liability of hotel owners and proprietors in cases of losses by the
sustained by hotel guests.

The resolutions were offered in
the Senate late yesterday. One, by Senator Chappellear, Pickaway County, names Senator Burch, Summit
County; Gardner, Hamilton, Republicans, and Garver, Holmes, Democrat, as members of a committee to
probe the affair. The other resolution, offered by Senator Bender,
Cleveland, authorizes Lieutenant
Governor Bloom as presiding officer
of the Senate to name a special committee of five senators to conduct
the investigation.

Belief that the Republican majority
favors the Chappellear resolution led
to the prediction that the rules committee will recommend adoption of
that resolution.

In advance of the introduction of
resolutions, Senators Marshall and Rowe, also of Cleveland, presented a
joint petition urging the Senate to provide for an investigation. Both
resolutions referred to the rules
committee. Power to summon witnesses and to compel their attendance is conferred upon the probe
committee by each resolution. The
house codes committee has announced that it will hold another hearing
next Wednesday on the Rhee bill
which provides for abolition of the
present state building code and for
the substitution of a state commission of seven members to draft
building standards.

After being reported out favorably,
the Price bill, transferring registrations of automobiles and issuance of
license tags to the State Tax Commission and county auditors, from
the secretary of state was committed to the Senate taxation commit-
tee. Automobile clubs throughout

LABOR SITUATION IN ENGLAND WORSE

London, March 20.—The first general debate on socialist principles
of government since Premier Andrew
Bonar Law took office is due in the
resolution of Philip Snowden, Labor-
ite, proposing nationalization of industries, is called up.

Many amendments have been offered since the resolution was introduced last week.

Sir Philip Lloyd-Graeme, famous
British financier, will lead the opposition to the measure. It is regarded as
doubtful if the resolution reaches a
vote, although the labor members are
insisting that the house put on record.

In the meantime the labor situation
in Western England is becoming
worse.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 20.—
"It is a fraud. I believed in the House of David until just a while ago,
when Esther Hanaford, for 13 years
secretary for Benjamin told me that he Benjamin carried on misconduct with
all the girls of the colony."

John Hansel, his voice trembling
with anger, gave this reply today
when asked if he still believed in the House of David.

(Hansel was referring to "Kings" Benjamin Purnell, leader of the Is-
raelites.)

Hansel, former member of the colony, is suing the Benton Harbor cult

DISPUTE UP TO CONGRESS.

General Washington or General Jack-
son shall ride his fiery steed in La-
fayette square, facing the white house,
is for congress alone to determine.
Quite a furore has been stirred up in
the last few days over a proposal to
remove the Jackson equestrian statue
from Lafayette square and replace it
with the equestrian statue of Washington, now being dismantled in Washington circle for repairs. Admirers
of "Old Hickory" are insisting that the memorial to the hero of the battle of

Women Demand Passage of Narcotic Bill

Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald
Senator Shortridge

Senator Shortridge of California,
is shown with Mrs. William A. Fitzgerald, of Los Angeles, President of
the Woman's Federation of Clubs
of California and head of the Anti-
Narcotic League who went to Washington to urge the Senator to support
the Anti-Narcotic bill in the next
session of Congress.

Possible

Washington, March 20.—Efficient
handling of locomotives alone would
save forty large railroads of the United States a half billion dollars
annually in coal and capital invested,
Senator James Couzens, Republican
of Michigan declared today in discussing the American transportation
problem.

Predicting the 68th Congress would
be forced to meet the railroad situation face to face, Senator Couzens
warned that the railroad "doctors"
are preparing to give the nation an
anesthetic in the form of
statistics, curved lines and tables,
preparatory to a painless operation,
in December.

There are two kinds of propagan-dists at large according to Senator Couzens—the first are those defend-
ing the railroads as now operated;
the second class "demagogues" ex-
aggerating the railroad difficulties.

"From my observation there is an
efficient and economical methods of
Couzens said.

"The first thing that occurs to a
railroad manager when he wants to
reduce costs is to cut wages—that
does not require any laborious brain
work. But why not concentrate on
means of cutting costs without reducing wages."

"The inadequacy of transportation
facilities is chiefly responsible for high
operating costs and consequently excessive freight rates."

Couzens explained if forty large
railroads would increase efficiency to
reach the standards of locomotive
performance set by the ten best rail-
roads, a saving of close to $500,000,
000 would be possible.

"Henry Ford has drawn the attention of railroads a number of times
to the great necessity of reducing
weight so as to reduce the enormous
amount of dead tonnage hauled. He
has pointed the way on a number of
occasions how to reduce costs with-
out reducing wages."

MAKE EFFORT TO PROTECT INVESTORS

Columbus, March 20.—Progress has
been made in the effort to protect
Ohio investors from questionable pro-
positional schemes, according to Cyrus Locher, director of commerce, who
supervises the work of the blue sky
department. In a letter to Governor
Donahay, Director Locher reports that
disposal of stock in 70 different corporations has been prevented by Norman B. Beck, as commissioner of securities, the stock amounting to $91-
69,800 during the period from Feb. 1
to March 15. In this six weeks' time
the commissioner revoked the sale of
stock in 59 companies which had previously been authorized to sell their
securities, and denied certificates of
compliance to the remaining 11 companies of the 70 on their first application. The stock involved in the revoca-
tions amounted to $88,894,800 and in
the new applications to $2,575,000. The
disposal of 4,074,742 shares of stock
of no par value, in addition to the
above, was also refused.

PENNSYLVANIA TOWN ROCKED BY BLAST AS POWDER MILL LETS GO

Were Workmen.

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 20.—The little village of Bilena, located a mile and a half from Moosic was thrown into consternation this morning at 9:15 o'clock when the building known as Pack House No. 1 of the Dupont Powder Company, blew up. Two men were killed instantly and one is in a dying condition. The dead are:
John Taylor, 28, of Startas, near Moosic.
James Graham, 50, of Moosic, married.
Mike Lawald, 60, is in a dying condition at his home in Bilena village.
When the explosion occurred, Graham was at his work in the build-

Employees of Large Printing Establishment in Pittsburgh
—Cause Unexplained.

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 20.—Eight
girls and six men were injured, some
seriously when an elevator in the
building of Murdock, Kerr and Company, dropped shortly after 8 o'clock
this morning. They were taken to hospitals. They were employed in
the big printing establishment.
Reports received at police head-

suffering severely from shock. A few
were believed to have received internal injuries.

Just as the elevator was about to
stop at the second floor, it suddenly
dropped to the basement. Police
from headquarters nearby, hurriedly
began extricating the victims and
rushing them to the hospitals.

examinations did not reveal any seriously injured.

GERMANY WILL GIVE VIEWS ON RUHR INVASION

British Ambassador Bringing Document Setting
Forth Viewpoint

London, March 20.—Lord D'Aber-
non, British ambassador to Germany,
who is returning from Berlin, is reported to be bringing a document setting forth the "viewpoint of the German government regarding Ruhr occupation."

The German embassy, however, denied any official knowledge upon the
subject.

Herr St. Hamer, the German ambassador, conferred with Lord Cur-
zon, the British foreign secretary on Monday night, but neither would say
what was discussed. From other sources
it was learned that negotiations
are under way which may lead to a
settlement of the Ruhr problem.

German industrialists are credited
with being responsible for the negotiations.

British officials declared that Lord
D'Abernon's visit did not have un-
usual significance, but that he is coming for a brief vacation.
Governor Norman A. F. the Bank of England, conferred in Paris with the governor of the Bank of France upon
the payment of 65,000,000 pounds
sterling owing to this country by France. This is part of 75,000,000
pounds sterling borrowed by France
from England during the war. Only 15,000,000 pounds have been paid.
France has asked a ten year's exten-

PATIENT'S LEAP FATAL.

Chicago, March 20.—John Pieklow
was killed when he leaped from a six-
story window at the county hospital.
Pieklow, suffering from tuberculosis,

Panama City, March 20.—(By Radio)—Andrew N. Peterson, of Brooklyn, and Albert B. Rosdahl of the Bronx, former United States
Congressmen from New York State, were released from jail here early
today after being arrested for violating navy regulations by appearing
on the streets after 11 p. m. in naval uniforms.

To find out just what were the experiences of a sailor under
actual war conditions, they drew complete outfits from the ship's
quartermaster and dressed as common seamen, agreeing to observe
all naval regulations during the time they were thus attired.

of this ancient Central American city, forgetting that their passes
provided for their return to their ship at 11 o'clock.

Shortly after that hour, they are said to have ventured forth
from a cabaret and immediately fell into the hands of the civil police.
Their protestations and passes were of no use. The Panama
congressmen were locked up forthwith.

It is easily read, being inset into the main front of the range. The heat graduations, as to the degrees and different articles to bake, are plainly marked on the thermometer. It is absolutely reliable. Recipes can be followed without guesswork or chance of error. It registers oven heat to a fraction of a degree. No need to worry about food burning or under-cooking. Women agree that this feature surpasses anything of its kind ever put on a gas range.

Styles BY LENORE

tion. The pleats form a tunic that almost but not quite meets in the back. In the lighter shades, such as gray, beige, and Lavender green, this design makes a chic frock for luncheon or tea or for week ends in the country. In dark blue it is suitable for school or office wear.

Many of the new dresses this season derive their smartness from pleatings, which is not at all regrettable, as this affords one of the most desirable means of giving character to a frock without trimmings. One of the most attractive models observed in a Fifth Avenue shop resorts to pleats the entire length of the dress, the fulness being confined at the neck by a straight-across band attached with fagoting, and at the waistline with a ribbon in contrasting color, that ties gracefully at a side. Wide band armholes dispense with sleeves. This frock is shown in printed silks.

PLAYGROUND PROJECT BACKERS NEGOTIATE FURTHER WITH OWNERS OF DODDS TRACT IN EFFORT TO ACQUIRE LAND FOR PURPOSE

Motions setting forth that it is not possible for owners of the Dodds Addition to sell lots along the proposed park sites in their present condition and to appoint a committee to negotiate further with these owners in regard to acquiring the park immediately were passed at the meeting of the Community Recreation Association in the commission chamber of City Hall Monday night.

At the same time a membership committee was appointed by Chairman Edward M. Woodward to inspire a better attendance of representatives of civic, patriotic, fraternal and religious organizations at the next meeting of the Association to be held in the McKinley School auditorium next Monday evening. An effort will be made to have Ben Piers, recreational director in Dayton, speak at that meeting and present motion pictures of playground work in Dayton. The membership committee is composed of Ed. S. Davidson, chairman, the Rev. W. H. Tilford, Mrs. M. L. Wolf, Miss Rose Berry and P. B. Yockey.

Report of the negotiations of the committee with the owners of the tract, was submitted by Homer Spahr, secretary of the association, who read correspondence that had been carried on with William A. Kaufman, trustee of the Roberts estate representing the heirs and F. W. Dodds, who purchased the tract for development purposes with the intention of giving the 40-acre tract under discussion to the city.

Mr. Kaufman referred the committee to Mr. Dodds, as owner, although he expressed an interest in the plan. In a letter to the committee read at the meeting, Mr. Dodds said that it had been his desire since he first conceived the plan of developing the Roberts estate to save the tract under discussion for park purposes with the intention of giving it to the city as a memorial to his father. That this is still his sentiment was expressed in his letter, although admitted that a more successful sale of the building lots in other parts of the tract would be necessary to provide the financial resources to free the park tract from encumbrances.

In his letter Mr. Dodds said that with the eventual development of the park, lots along that section would be particularly valuable, and the sale of 95 lots bordering on the park district for a combined sum of $25,000 would enable him to clear the park of encumbrance and follow out his plan of a donation to the city. Sixty of the lots in question if sold at $300 apiece and 35 at $200 a piece would be sufficient to raise the amount and Mr. Dodds offered to sacrifice his selling commission of these lots to provide the entire sum to pay off the mortgage lien on the park premises.

The suggestion that another lot auction be held to dispose of the lots was considered at the meeting but discarded. Members of the committee believe that the building lots would sell readily if they were made accessible through the construction of proper gravel roads, and hold to the belief that if the committee should provide these streets, the sale of lots which would accrue would be sufficient guarantee for Mr. Dodds to complete the donation of the park. Further negotiation in an effort to overcome the difficulties that prevent Mr. Dodds from carrying out his original intention of a donation and that keep the city from acquiring an excellent park territory, will be up to the committee of five to be named by Mr. Woodward.

That the Association might proceed with the development of other neighborhood play centers while the Dodds park question is pending, was a suggestion made at the meeting. This was following the report submitted by John R. Beacham, chairman of the committee appointed at the last meeting to conduct a survey of possible playground sites all over the city. Mr. Beacham's report showed seven possible sites not including the Dodds location. One of these is the old work house, now the Hunt Broom Factory, on Dayton Avenue, which might be used for playground and recreation purposes. A second location is the Henry Sanborn property on Home Avenue, through which a stream passes that might be used to furnish water for a pool. The Allen Field, adjacent to the Monroe Street viaduct was a third field suggested. Property in the rear of residences on the east side of South Detroit Street south of Rogers Street was also suggested as was also property along Lake Street. Another site is in the eastern side of the Dodds Addition. The final site suggested was the Hoover & Allison Company golf course, which the committee chairman said he understood had been offered to children living in that territory for playground purposes.

The plan of making a permanent organization was not effected at the meeting Monday night, but the chairman was instructed to appoint a non-

AMERICANS CROWD NEAR EAST DISTRICT

Constantinople, March 20.—Five hundred passengers from the liner, Homeric, on a two months' cruise of the Mediterranean, stopping in Constantinople for two days, helped to swell the American colony and brought together the largest number of Americans in the Near East since pre-war days.

A reception at the American embassy and a ball on board the Homeric, attended by the entire American colony in Constantinople, featured the stop-over.

Members of the Homeric's party came from eighteen different states of the Union. Among the most prominent are former Governor Nathan L. Miller, of New York; Benjamin Bacharach, mayor of Atlantic City, and Louis Bamberger, proprietor of a Newark, N. J. department store.

The call of the Homeric at Athens was cancelled owing to the prevalence of diseases and epidemics there, caused by the influx of refugees from Asia Minor.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

For Alice E.—Wholewheat Bread.—One cup of scalded milk, one teaspoon of butter, one-half teaspoon of sugar, one-half teaspoon of salt, one-half cake of compressed yeast and about three cups of wholewheat flour. Put the scalded milk into a bowl with the butter, sugar and salt; when the milk has cooled to the luke-warm stage, add the yeast dissolved in one-third cup of luke-warm water. Then stir in the three cups of flour. It should now be stiff enough to hold its shape. Mix well by do not knead. Cover and let rise until double in bulk, then turn it out onto a floured board and knead it only enough to form it into two loaves. Place these loaves into two greased pans and when once more double in bulk, bake in a hot oven for 35 minutes. This bread takes in all, between four and five hours to make. If your local grocer does not carry the wholewheat flour, send me a s. a. e. and I will send you the name of a firm which sells it in small bags by parcel post. Many women have success with this wholewheat bread who fail on the white bread.

For "Young Housewife." Use six slightly rounded tablespoons of ground coffee in your percolator and four cups of water. It also pays to buy a good brand of coffee. You know, the brand has everything to do with the success of the beverage.

For "A New Mother": I have searched everywhere for the knitting directions you wish—but without results. I am sorry to disappoint you.

For "A Daily Reader" in reply to your letter asking me to print an appeal for short-cake fillings, I am going to ask our Reader Friends right now, how many different kinds they use? Perhaps they will be kind enough to send me some unusual ones, to publish here for the benefit of all. Just write them on a postal and mail it to me.

HARDING'S FOREIGN POLICY IS O. K.

The advocates of American membership in the league of nations—there are such persons—are doing poor service to world peace when they seize upon the proposal regarding the permanent court of international justice as evidence that the present administration is covertly seeking an opportunity to join the league of nations. Nothing could be further from the intention of President Harding, as is shown by his own statements, made before election and as recently as last week. If anything has been made clear, it is that the league of nations as framed at Paris is abhorrent to Mr. Harding's sense of Americanism. His kind of Americanism makes it impossible that he should contemplate American participation in the league of nations, and still less that he should attempt to bring about participation. The position which President Harding has taken toward the world court is not novel. He occupies the identical position now that he occupied as a candidate for President. His speeches during the campaign of 1920 referred to the projected international court, which was then under consideration by the leading jurists of the world. He favored the creation of a world court of justice, so constituted as to command the earnest support of the United States. He pointed out that the United States could not be expected to agree beforehand to submit any question to the court. The true course to pursue, he said, was to join in setting up a court which could adjudicate dispute between nations, supported by the public opinion of the world and not by bayonets. The gradual evolution of such a court, he believed, would command the support of world public opinion, as the United States Supreme Court has earned the support of American opinion. The Supreme Court, he said, had never called for force to execute its decrees, which were effective by the mere force of public opinion.

ALL EUROPE DOMINATED BY FEAR.

There would be greater importance attached to the tone of the Paris newspapers if they represented more fully than they do the actual sentiment of the French people. Unfortunately, the ethics of continental journalism differ sharply from those in vogue in either Great Britain or the United States, and the utterances of the chief newspapers are to be judged less as expressive of general public sentiment than as the reflection of the desires and purposes of the political or financial group which happens to be influential with the publisher. Into the merits of this situation it is not our purpose at present to go. Whether it is better for newspapers, as is common in the United States, for example, to seek popularity by striving to reflect what they think is the popular will of the moment, or for them to follow the Parisian practice of striving to direct public sentiment by preaching doctrines which a group may think advantageous either to the state or to the personal fortunes of those constituting the group, is a matter upon which there might be some interesting and profitable argument.

At present, however, we merely desire to emphasize the new tone of the Paris press toward the rapidly disintegrating entente. It has fallen a victim to FEAR—fear on the part of Great Britain that such trade as it may have with Germany will be destroyed, and its potential business relations overthrown, by the action of France and Belgium in the Ruhr; fear on the part of France and Belgium that Great Britain may intervene to prevent their carrying out to its ultimate their policy in the Ruhr; fear on the part of western Europe that Germany, Turkey and Russia may combine in a war upon the formerly victorious Allies. Whatever of promise there may have been in the Versailles Treaty for the restoration of normal conditions in Europe, and there was little enough, is being wholly obliterated by the growth among every people of apprehension as to what its neighbor may be planning for the future.

SELF-PITY, SIGN OF WEAKNESS.

"Have you among your friends or acquaintances any men or women who are always pitying themselves?" asks Forbes Magazine. "If so, you can set them down as weaklings. Self-pity is self-destruction. Self-pity slays one's self reliance. Self-pity breeds despair. The strong don't indulge in self-pity. They are too busy thinking and working and talking constructively. They are intent on attaining some object, some goal. They are so engrossed in practicing self help that they have no time to waste on self-pity."

"Self-pity is not only a bad habit; it is a poisonous habit," continues Forbes. "It hurts self and it disgusts others. The person who is chronically guilty of self-pity hasn't in him the spirit of self-sacrifice, and without self-sacrifice no human being can qualify to go far or rise far. Self-pity reveals a lack of self-discipline. We all encounter difficulties and discouragements we all have ambitions thwarted. But we do not let discouragements discourage; we do not give up because balked and thwarted time and again; we do not wear our occasional streak of pessimism on our sleeve or on our countenance. We keep a stiff upper lip. We wrestle on. And we smile on. We don't become cry-babies. We may inwardly wince, but we don't pour tales of woe into the ears of others—we know they have trouble enough of their own."

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Never before in years has there been such warm weather in March as the past few days. The thermometers hanging about the business center of Xenia have been registering upward in 70. This is something wonderful when it is considered that just a month ago Xenians were having the coldest weather of the winter.

Mr. W. E. Cox, who for some years has been the agent for the

C. H. and D. railroad in this city has tendered his resignation. Mr. Cox will take a position in the business office of the Hooven and Allison company.

According to present plans the Beveridge paper mill will be ready to begin operations about April 15. The buildings are nearly all completed. The plant will be a fine one in every particular and it will be one of Xenia's best industries.

ANSWERED LETTERS

Liberty Girls—When the hands have a tendency to redness during the cold weather, rub dry coarse salt into them after washing and drying in the usual way.

If the skin is inclined to be dry and grimey, follow each washing by rubbing into the hands a small amount of any of lotions that contain honey and almond. Such a lotion is very convenient to use as it is absorbed at once leaving the skin refreshed, while there will be no oiliness to be removed as there would be if cream or an oil had been used. These lotions, however, merely give a temporary effect, but that is all that should be needed ordinarily.

Dolly—Spirits of camphor should not be used on a dry skin as it would increase this tendency. The mixture of rose water and glycerine is best for the hands, creams are needed for complexion. Perhaps you are using a vanishing cream on your face which could account for that condition; if so change to an oily cream of the best quality, one made from Express English almond oil. After the skin has absorbed all that is needed remove surplus and close the pores by rubbing over the face and throat a small piece of ice, or if that is not convenient, dashes of very cold water will be a fair substitute.

Sixteen—At your age there is often a tendency to pimples which is usually only a temporary thing. Keep the system regulated through a simple diet and drink plenty of water.

Miss Mary K.—This dark ring around your mouth shows that your liver is very sluggish. Consult the doctor about this.

Thank You—With brown hair and eyes accompanied by a clear dark skin your choice of colors should be all those found among the autumn leaves.

D. L.—It would not be objectionable if you did not return the fork to the right hand, if you choose to eat some of the meat while cutting it. The handling of the fork varies in different countries, but since you are an America you will be quite correct if you use the fork in the right hand at all times, except when that hand is needed for the knife in cutting. This American habit of conveying the food to the mouth on the fork from the right hand is being adopted now in England and some of the countries on the continent.

Dissolve the tar in any oil to make it thin enough for the scalp applications.

Mrs. M.—For the fine lines that are appearing under the eyes, feed all the tissues of face and throat by using plenty of nourishing cream. As astringent treatment should be taken also whenever the skin needs it—in most cases this will be once a week.

As most lines result from the sagging of the facial and throat muscles, both nourishing and astringent treatments are needed to overcome them.

Tomorrow—Touching Up the Lips.

THREE ACCIDENTALLY KILLED.

Cleveland, March 20.—John Murphy, 46, and Henry Klabunda, 34, were run down and killed here by automobiles. An attempt to board a freight train resulted in the instant death of Louis Goodhart, 17, when he fell beneath the wheels.

There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders.

Gently massage Musterole in with the finger-tips. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears.

Try Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia). 35c and 65c, jars and tubes; hospital size, $3.00.

THE GAZETTE And THE REPUBLICAN Information Box

All questions asked by our readers will be answered in this column. Medical and legal subjects are barred. Address all queries to "Information," this paper.

Maintack—There are 7,389 vessels employed in the U. S. Fisheries Department.

Inventor—The number of patents issued by the government in 1922 exceeded 38,000.

Kid—Kites were invented by the Chinese, and it is believed that they had a religious significance when first flown. It is certain that the sport of kite flying was a favorite one with the Chinese youth before Europe received the idea. The Chinese attached knives to the strings of their kites to cut those of rivals and the name is derived from the kite, a bird with remarkable scaling powers.

Hempeked—In England, at any rate, perambulators have no legal right on the sidewalk. We know of no such legislation in this climate.

Yessir—The English language contains nearly 500,000 words.

B. S. A.—The registration of the Boy Scouts of the world is approximately 2,000,000.

Prospective Motorist—It is rather hard to give you any definite advice in buying a car, for with every make, different and varied considerations must be noted. However, roughly, here are the points which should govern the solution: Balance, power, control, lubrication, cooling, economy, durability and finish.

HONEST PRAISE

I know of nothing that warms the rooms of the heart like honest praise. A race horse goes better after a pat on the nose.

Smile at your child and ask him to do your errand and he will go to it with a whistle on his lips.

Praise and appreciation are beyond purchase price.

I do not like eulogies after people have been removed from mortal hearing. I want all my praises given me right now—and I am sure that everyone feels the same way about it.

I have never known honest praise to hurt anyone. And I have seen it transform otherwise sour and despondent persons into sweet and inspiring characters.

Take the dumb animal, for example. Note his reaction to a kind word or an extra pat.

How he expresses his appreciation, in his own peculiar way. Perhaps it is nothing more than the straight sparkling look in his eyes. But you know that he knows.

And, after all, that is what makes the manager, as well as the ones he manages.

How many salesman has been po-

litlely turned down, only to go to his next prospect with increased determination because he was praised for his work by his house, or by the man who turned him down.

It is a good thing that we fall many times.

It gives someone who may be interested in us a chance to praise us for what we have tried to do—spurring us on to win.

AMERICA ACCEPTS ALLIED PROPOSAL

Paris, March 20.—In the reply from the state department, which Elliot Wadsworth handed to the allies, the United States declines to consider counting the value of German ships seized in American ports as part payment of the costs of its Rhine army. The United States, however, accepts the proposal of the allies to pay the total sum due, put at $257,000,000, out of future payments from Germany, but insists that the bill must be paid sooner than the 12-year period specified in the allied offer. Neutral diplomatic circles are surprised at America's acceptance, which gives the United States an interest in forcing Germany to hasten reparations payments to the allies. In some quarters the note is even considered as a tacit endorsement of the French occupation of the Ruhr.

KATO BOLD NOW, BUT TO QUIT AS JAP DIET ENDS

Tokio, March 10.—The first weeks of the annual Diet session have failed to make a dent in the front displayed by the administration of Admiral Baron Kato, the Premier. The opposition in both houses repeatedly requested that the Premier assume responsibility for this or that thing and, with his Cabinet, resign. But the cool voice of Baron Kato always replied firmly in the negative. In fact he is changed but little, save that illness and the cares of state have added to his gray hairs and the wrinkles on his face.

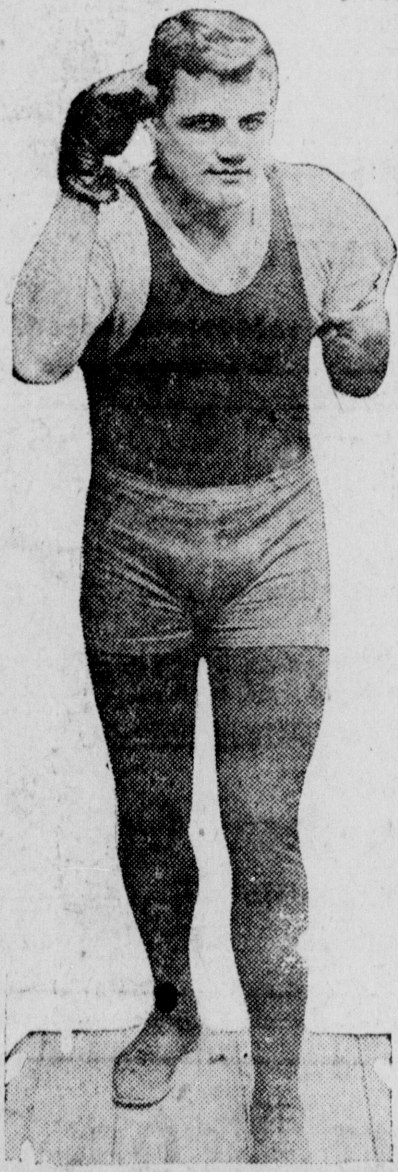

The Privy Council is out after the Cabinet, too if necessary, but the only scalp really sought is that of Count Uchida, Minister of Foreign Affairs. Japan has been gripped recently by a so-called critical dispute between the cabinet and the Privy Council. The public has swung this way and that, but, to all outward appearance, the Cabinet was not perturbed beyond discussion of the matter. The dispute came when the Cabinet, pursuing Kato's Washington policy, negotiated a treaty with China for the withdrawal of Japanese post offices from China and did not consult the Privy Council until the agreement was signed. Few treaties have been concluded in this manner. For the most part the Privy Council consists of gray-haired statesmen whose former part in Government affairs makes them think they should be consulted on every move by the Cabinet. Explanations and apologies settled the matter, after the Privy Council appealed to the throne, and the Prince Regent, so far as is known, upheld Premier Kato. Then the council discovered that at one time the Government said the treaty became effective upon its signature at Peking and at another time declared it went into force when the Prince Regent gave his sanction. The cabinet refused to oust Count Uchida, but the matter was settled until the Diet is over.

While functioning before the Privy Council has great powers, and to incur its displeasure means trouble for any administration. For that reason it is lucky for Premier Kato that he has smoothed things over for the time being. When the Diet ends that body probably will go after Count Uchida.

That suits Premier Kato perfectly—and the Seiyukai, majority party too.

But he expects to beat them to it. The Premier has planned for months that his Ministry should retire from office upon completion of the Diet session, provided the Seiyukai is strong enough at that time to resume the reins of government. Unless some mishap should cause the majority party trouble it will organize a Cabinet in the latter part of April or the first of May and, with the aid of the surviving Genro, be ready to take over the Government when Premier Kato retires. And he will resign when the Seiyukai—and the Genro—tell him to do so for a number of reasons, among which is his own conviction that his non-party Government is retarding the progress of constitutional government in Japan. Of course, in a pinch lack of such a conviction, wouldn't save him, but he has it, anyway.

WORLD'S GOLD IS BURDEN, NOT BLESSING, TO AMERICA, BRITISH ECONOMIST'S VIEW

New York, March 19.—Financial experts estimate that approximately 55 per cent of the world's gold supply is in America at the present time. This amounts to about $4,000,000,000.

By F. A. WRAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

London, March 19.—That a great stock of gold is a real danger to a country instead of being a security is the belief of Sir Josiah Stamp, foremost British economist. Sir Josiah, who framed the economic clauses of the Treaty of Versailles, was Assistant Secretary of the Board of Inland Revenue, from 1916 to 1919. "Now that the greatest assemblage of gold that the world has ever seen has been deposited in the vaults of New York," says Sir Josiah, "fearing men and women on both sides of the Atlantic are beginning to realize a remarkable economic paradox. 'This enormous store of the precious metal does not make for wealth or safety. It does not make lighter the burden of the people of the United States; it lays them open to innumerable problems.'

"The United States Government today possesses nearly half the total supply of the world's gold, according to the latest report of Mr. W. C. Cressinger, the Comptroller of Currency. This does not necessarily mean that America is better clothed or housed, or fed than we in Britain. You cannot eat gold. You cannot make it into clothes. You cannot build houses of it. Gold is, in fact, almost a useless thing when it comes to ministering to the real needs of a human being. Its chief function is to serve as the foundation for the structure of credit and as a basis of value and exchange.

"This gold must either be kept in internal vaults or it must go out of the country to purchase goods. The whole economic structure of America has been tending to become that of an exporting country, and, of course, her tariffs are based in that way against imports, whereas with the payment of a debt by Britain and also the advisability of exchanging this gold for goods, she is now almost inviting an influx of goods which must go against her whole economic inclination.

Must Keep It

"She will naturally not like sending the gold out of the country to receive goods in exchange. That would raise a howl at once against the tariff. Therefore, she is driven to keeping it within her own country. It leaves her vaults and goes into general use it will have the effect of vastly increasing prices unless there is an enormous increase in production.

"But there is an even more insidious danger—that the possession of this quantity of gold may lead the Federal Reserve Board largely to inflate currency. When the bullion is unloaded in harbor it is carried to the vaults for safe keeping, and then it remains in reserve.

"Supposing the percentage of reserve under normal conditions in America to be 40 per cent, this means that for every $100 of purchasing power and credit in circulation she has $40 in gold wherewith to back it. But today, owing to the enormous quantity of gold, her reserve is approaching double that figure and she is rapidly reaching the point where every dollar of purchasing power on the Continent could be replaced by gold of its face value.

Danger Dormant Now
"As long as the gold is untouched the danger is dormant. But if when an improvement occurs in trade, business men seek large increases in credit the Federal Reserve Board may be tempted to lower this reserve ratio so as to give them all that their ambitious programs may require. They might think to themselves 'It would do no harm to let the reserve down by 5 points' and inflate the note issue accordingly.

"This may have much the same effect as if there were a Government press printing paper marks. 'Let us suppose that they succumb to the suggestion. Credit becomes more plentiful because the ratio reserve is lowered. More paper dollars are available, so that prices rise, with the result that a dollar note no longer buys the old quantity of goods. Inflation sets in, with the subsequent Nemesis.

"Workmen demand higher wages, and strikes come, with their inevitable consequences of economic dead-

loc hand the subsequent collapse of industry.

"Thus the undulations of industry are made more severe, whereas the desire of everyone is to introduce a greater stability in trading conditions over the passage of the years.

"What we want to do is to avoid the severity of trade cycles, for every spasm of artificial influence leads further away from the desired object. Every burst of inflation raises many new social difficulties and just as we are getting into comparatively level waters after the rough seas of the war we naturally dread new disturbances which may arise in this way.

I was willing to try anything that was suggested to me and did try many things, but none seemed to reach the seat of the trouble or do me any good. At last I heard of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, when my condition was very low, and its tonic strengthening effect was felt before the first bottle was entirely used, by increased strength and cheerfulness of spirits. ## TO FACE JUVENILE JUDGE ON THURSDAY

Ralph Coates, 12, Ralph Terrell, 12, and Robert Terrell, 12, will come before Juvenile Judge J. Carl Marshall Thursday afternoon for juvenile delinquency.

The youths were arrested Monday afternoon by Patrolman Ancil Stephens on charge of entering and robbing the Cincinnati Avenue store of the Kennedy Grocery Company Sunday afternoon.

Later all three youths confessed to entering a store room in the rear of the Famous Cheap Store, East Main Street, where they admitted stealing a quantity of candy. At the Kennedy store, which they burglarized later, the boys lost part of the candy taken at the cheap store, which led to the discovery that they were responsible for both affairs.

At the Kennedy store about $10 was taken from the cash register and some candy stolen. The trio then went to Dayton for a good time. They have been before Judge Marshall before for delinquency.

Allied Experts to Take Up Turkey's Latest Propositions

London, March 20.—The most interesting development in connection with the German and near east situations is the summoning here of Lord D'Abernon, ambassador to Berlin, and General Harrington, British commander in chief at Constantinople.

Allied experts, with Lord Curzon presiding, will begin here tomorrow to consider Turkey's new proposals. It is predicted that as a result of these deliberations there will be a new conference to resume the negotiations which were broken down through failure of the Lausanne near east peace conference.

Premier Bonar Law, in the house of commons, revealed the fact that at the Paris conference Britain suggested a sum approximating $12,500,000 as a reparations total which would be within Germany's ability to pay, subject to a moratorium. The premier denied that he had any knowledge that Germany had offered $7,500,000,000 at that time.

Despite the stand-offish attitude of Berlin and Paris, it is learned from various sources that unofficial conversations are proceeding over Lord Robert Cecil's proposal to demilitarize a zone along the Rhine and for international control of the railways in that zone, and it is declared that the plan is growing in favor with the French.

Lord Curzon recently intimated that he expected a new German offer in a few days. It is significant that the German ambassador in London had a long conference with officials at the British foreign office today.

It is authoritatively denied at Berlin that Dr. H. H. Dieckhoff, counselor of the German embassy at Washington, on his visit to Secretary Hughes Friday submitted any memorial of any kind or suggested intervention by the United States between Germany and France.

There is a deep note of pessimism in German government circles. It is declared that as long as Poincare insists upon proposals that are equivalent to unconditional capitulation there is nothing left for Chancellor Cuno to do but continue resistance.

BRITISH WILL PAY FULL DEBT AMOUNT

Washington, March 20.—The British government has notified the American debt funding commission, it was announced at the treasury, that it will pay the full amount of principal and interest provided for in the debt settlement plan the first year.

The British will not exercise the option given them to defer half the interest charge and add that to the principal of the debt. The option gives the British this privilege for any of the first five years of the 62-year liquidation period. It was incorporated into the settlement plan to give the British protection against a wildly fluctuating or adverse exchange during the early years of the liquidation while European financial and economic conditions are in an uncertain state.

The treasury regards the decision of the British to pay in full the first year's installment of principal and interest as a favorable omen. It reflects a confidence in the British mind for the present and immediate future business outlook.

The principal payment provided for the first year is $23,000,000, with interest of $138,000,000, making a total payment for 1922 of $161,000,000. This is in addition to the payment of a little more than $4,000,000 cash upon conclusion of the settlement agreement to reduce the total principal as of Jan. 1 to $4,600,000,000.

ANTIOCH HAS IMPOSING COURT CHANCELLORS TO PLAY; CEDARVILLE HIGH WINS LAST ONE GREENE COUNTY GIRLS WIN TOURNAMENT

Antioch Books Schedule

Coach Earl Prugh of Antioch College, Yellow Springs, booked up an imposing court schedule for his next season's basketball team at the meeting of Ohio Conference officials in Columbus Monday to arrange court schedules for next year.

Coach Prugh's efforts in booking high class schools for his pets to meet has served to bring much athletic prestige to the Yellow Springs School in spite of the fact that the mentor is hampered by the co-operative plan of education which means a continual change of his athletes. Even with this rule in effect Antioch has a victory over Ohio Wesleyan at its credit for the season just closed.

Antioch's schedule next season is as follows: December 8, Cincinnati at Yellow Springs; January 5, Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware; January 11, Wittenberg at Springfield; January 12, Capital at Yellow Springs; January 19, Miami at Oxford; January 26, Muskingum at Yellow Springs; February 1, Ashland at Yellow Springs; February 8, Heidelberg at Yellow Springs; February 15, Goodyear at Akron; February 16, Ashland at Ashland; February 23, Mt. Union at Yellow Springs; March 5, Kenyon at Yellow Springs.

Green Countians Win

Miss Florence Johnson of Yellow Springs won first prize and Miss Eleanor Alexander won second prize in the girls' basketball foul shooting contest held in the Springfield Y. W. C. A. under the auspices of the Springfield Sun Monday night.

Miss Johnson made 12 baskets in the 25 free throws allowed and besides the title of tournament winner was awarded a medal by the Sun for the best foul shooter. Miss Alexander made nine shots good out of the 25 attempts to win the second prize.

In capturing first place Miss Johnson was the second out of town winner in the tournament. V. R. Greeting of North Hampton, taking the mens' and boys' tournament honors by shooting 22 baskets out of 25 attempts. Thirty-seven girls participated in the girls division of the foul shooting tourney, 19 shooting last Thursday night and the rest Monday night. The best scores made opening night were made by four girls who tied at eight baskets each.

Chancellors To Play

The East High basketball team will not play the South Detroit Street Merchants at the Rink Wednesday evening as announced, the team having disbanded for the season, but the Xenia Chancellors, a team made up of high school players will play. Members of the team will be Porter, Taylor, B. Ware, J. Ware, D. Ware and Baker.

The game will be played preliminary to the second contest between the Famous Autos and the American Legion five to decide the city championship. The first game last Wednesday resulted in a victory for the Autos and gives them an edge of one game on the series and the city championship title. Tickets are now on sale for the tilt at 55 cents apiece.

Cedarville Wins Last Game

Cedarville High School basketball team, Greene County champions as decided at the Antioch tournament, sang its swan song in Cedarville Friday night by defeating New Paris High, Preble County Champions, 23 to 11 at Alford Memorial gymnasium.

While Cedarville was capturing the Greene County championship New Paris was busy attaching the championship title of Preble County, and these lads proved their championship ability in the real opposition they furnished Cedarville Friday night.

Airtight defense exhibited by Cedarville in the initial half enabled the champs to come out that period with the long end of a 14 to 2 score. New Paris did not score a single field goal in the first half. The teams battled on more even terms each team scoring nine points. Webster and Johnson starred for Cedarville, these lads playing their last game for Cedarville as they will graduate this year.

Robin Hoods Lose Game

NEED LIGHTER AND SWIFTER CRAFT FOR UNITED STATES NAVY

Maneuvers Show Lack of These Qualities In Present Ships.

Sailboa, Panama, March 20.—Destroyers demonstrated the absolute necessity of lighter and swifter ships for the American navy in a series of maneuvers off Panama bay. A fleet of superdreadnaughts, protected only by seaplanes, was driven from its course by the on-rushing destroyers, who attacked from behind an impenetrable smoke screen. Dummy torpedoes scored direct hits on the Idaho and Tennessee and forced them out of commission.

In the second engagement, to test the value of destroyers acting with a fleet, a unit of 19 destroyers was enabled to ward off the attacks from a similar force of the lighter craft and give the battle fleet time to maneuver into an advantageous position. During the firing of torpedoes the destroyers frequently scored three hits out of three shots, which were allowed each ship.

FIERY CROSS BURNED IN XENIA ON TUESDAY NIGHT BY KLANSMEN

The burning of a fiery cross at the north end of Collier Street, in the street laid off in the Dadds addition between the library and the new Central High School building gave first evidence of the presence here of the Invisible Empire, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, Monday night about eight o'clock.

The large cross burned several minutes attracting the attention of many people and resulting in numerous calls to Police Headquarters. The burning of the cross was followed by the exploding of bombs in several sections of the city, the explosives being set off at the scene of the cross, on East Church Street, near the railroad yards and on West Second St. There was no demonstration.

Reports that other crosses had been burned in other parts of the city simultaneously could not be verified. The cross burned in the Dadds addition was still standing Tuesday and was sought out by sightseers. The cross was made of heavy timber, standing about 12 feet high with the cross arms about six feet long.

Police believe that visiting members of the Invisible Empire, mostly from Dayton, were here for the installation of a local chapter of the organization Monday night. Thirty five or forty visiting Knights are said to have invaded Xenia from Dayton. They were not in uniform. A party of men accosted on the street by Chief of Police M. E. Graham denied setting off the bombs. They were afterwards seen to enter the building, Detroit and Market Street, where police say Klan headquarters is located.

COUNTRY NOW IN PERIOD OF BUSINESS PROSPERITY AND GENERAL CONFIDENCE SAYS CLEVELAND FIRM

Cleveland, March 20.—"The country is now in a period of business prosperity and general confidence," says the Cleveland Trust Company in its mid-month business review for March made public today.

"The evidence of good times are to be seen in record breaking freight movements, general shortage of workers, rising prices and wages, increasing security values, great industrial production and fewer insolencies."

"Recent economic studies indicate that business never moves for long on any given level."

"Business tends to move through recurrent phases of depression, recovery, prosperity and decline, leading to another period of depression, after which the cycle starts all over again."

"The time from prosperity to prosperity or from decline to decline tends to be on the average about forty months, or three and one third years, although any single cycle may be long or shorter than this."

JOY OF HEALTH WOMAN'S RIGHT

Detroit, Michigan.—"I had female weakness with pains in my back, and I could not stand on my feet for any length of time. I was working in a factory but had to quit as I was too much on my feet. A friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me, and I can hardly believe it myself that I am well. Oh, it is a grand thing to have your health! I feel well all the time and can go out like other women and not feel that awful torture. When I took your medicine first I thought it should cure after the first bottle, but I am glad my husband kept me at it. I have had nine bottles and now I am well."—Mrs. JENNY EVANS, 1604 Lafayette Blvd., Detroit, Michigan.

If you are suffering from displacements, irregularities, backache, nervousness or other forms of female weakness, you should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The reason is given in letters like these, and we have published thousands of them. You may expect that a medicine that has helped other women will help you. Try it.

A PURITAN WIFE

By Jane Phelps

DICKK IS INTOXICATED.
SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS.

Ann Peabody, a New England girl, marries Dick Belden, a California rancher. The latter has his faults, although he is lovable, too.

Grace Edmunds, working for a moving picture concern and a cousin to Ned and Bessie Prentice—nearest neighbors of Dick's and Ann's—make the latter's home headquarters.

Immediately different events arouse Ann's jealousy. Dick breaks his leg and Grace insists on nursing him—until one day when she gives him a drink Ann tells her she must leave. Grace writes a note to Dick, signing it "Your Sunbeam." Then she calls, in company with the Prentices.

CHAPTER XXXVII.

"Is 'Sunbeam' a pet name for Grace?" Ann asked as she and Dick stood beside, watching their guests depart. Had she stopped to think she would not have asked the question, but the words came without thought of consequences.

"What if it is? She was a sunbeam to me when I lay cooped up in bed," Dick's tone was aggressive.

"Oh, nothing! I just wondered, that's all." Sorry she had spoken, Ann turned and went into the house, leaving Dick outside. To her sensitiveness, Grace entering the home after she had practically ordered her out, was incomprehensible. And she had acted as if nothing had happened, as if she intended to keep up the old intimacy with Dick, make their home her's, as she had been from the beginning.

Ann had broken the whiskey bottle into bits, a sign of temper very foreign to her. She knew that remark about a "man-sized man" must have made Dick cringe; that he hated to be thought unable to do what any other man could or did do. That the sentence which followed it was cleverly designed she had no doubt. Grace had said she respected, looked up to him, that she (Ann) treated him as if he were a fool; and her advice to him to assert himself, if he didn't want to be laughed at showed how cleverly Grace had played upon his weaknesses.

So Ann remained silent, eating her heart out because of her fears when Dick was morose or quiet, hopeful when he would be his old tender self. He constantly praised her work, what she had done while he was confined in the house. Told her she was a wonder, a great little business girl, and so on. But he had not been as generous with praise of her as a woman, he had not been as free with his caresses, his kisses. Ann knew this was due to what Grace had said, that he had been influenced by her.

letter to believe she, Ann, made him look unmanly, that she belittled him. He was obliged to go to town and Ann could not refrain from cautioning him.

"Don't drink anything, Dick. Your leg isn't strong yet, and you might have another accident." It was the first time he had driven the flivver when alone.

"I'm no molly-coddle! Even if you try to make me one," he declared, using the expression of Grace's letter. Ann said no more, but her eyes enlivened. She had dreaded this visit to town for him, feared he might take the opportunity to show he wasn't ruled by her wishes.

"Don't look so solemn, I shan't forget anything," he said testily as he noted her glance.

"Well, you are the original Mrs. Gloom nowadays. If it isn't one thing it's another! Don't be always hunting trouble." Then he changed his tone, discussed some of the business plans with her in his old deferential way, tossed little Jack in the air a few times, kissed them both, and waved goodbye two or three times before the car reached a turn in the road that hid it from sight.

Before his accident Dick had made a resolve to do his errands before joining the men he knew who happened to be in town. Ann was, of course pleased to have him bring home the articles that necessitated the trip, but she did not flatter herself it proved his forgetfulness was in any way cured. He simply couldn't forget because there was nothing for him to forget if everything was purchased and in the flivver before he drank. And over her hung like a pall that feeling that sometime he would fail to do this, and forget something vital—something as bad or worse than when the crop froze and almost destroyed his year's work.

This peculiar loss of memory, such absolute oblivionness, had always frightened Ann. Dick could drive the car, get home all right, but to forget as he did, seemed a disease that might result in a total loss of memory some day.

"Why he might forget baby and me," she said as she thought of it. He often failed to recall whom he had seen, with whom he drank. She tried not to worry unnecessarily, but always when he was away, she was anxious.

He was patently intoxicated when he returned, and as he lurched into the house, said:

"I'll drink when and what I please, 'Sunbeam' doesn't object," then fell heavily upon the couch and was asleep almost instantly.

Grace—what she said was in his mind, made him drink more than usual, Ann muttered, as she put all the things on the list away. Not one was forgotten, all bought before he drank anything.

EXAMINE FOURTEEN CHILDREN TUESDAY AT CRIPPLED CLINIC

Fourteen children were examined Monday morning by Dr. James Walker of Dayton, at a crippled children's clinic, conducted by the Xenia Rotary Club at the Greene County Chapter of the Red Cross. Eight children were from Xenia and six from the county, three of the six county children being from Osborn, one from Fairfield, one from New Burlington and one from Beaver Creek township.

Two casts were removed, one brace fitted, one dressing changed, one X-ray made and one photograph taken. Seven students from Antioch College, who are taking a Red Cross course in 'Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick' with their instructor, Miss P. A. Field, a Red Cross nurse were guests at the clinic.

Dr. Walker was assisted by Dr. R. K. Finley, of the Rotary Club, Miss Helen Evers and Miss Jennie Moffett. The Rev. Lies, of Fairfield, a member of the Red Cross committee of Bath Township brought in three children, to the clinic. J. Harry Nagley and George P. Tiffany of the Rotary Club, gave their time and the use of their machines during the morning. The Red Cross car was also used.

ASKS IF IT'S PROPER TO MAKE POTPIE OUT OF LOOSE CHICKENS

That it is unlawful for chickens to run at large is the construction placed upon a city ordinance by Acting City Manager T. H. Zell, in answer to a letter addressed to the editor of the Gazette and The Republic can, signed "Reader."

The letter follows: "If one's neighbors can't pen up or lariat out their chickens wouldn't it be a good idea to have a potpie now and then to compensate for the damage they do?"

The ordinance cited by Acting Manager Zell holds that it is unlawful for the owner or owners or person or persons having charge of any male and livestock, including chickens, to permit them to run at large in any street, alley or public highway or upon any common or public ground or any enclosed land within the corporate limits.

Acting Manager Zell construes the words "enclosed property" to mean private grounds and that chickens running at large in that way are doing so in violation of the law. Complaints directed to the Police Department by complainants would result in action under the ordinance.
